Mill Valley School Bond Ballot Slated; $3.5 Million Asked

Need For Classroom Additions Cited As Basis For Nov. 16 Vote

Voters in the Mill Valley School District will be asked to approve a $3,500,000 bond issue Nov. 16, the district board decided last night.

Making the motion, Dr. William L. Clark, trustee, said the purpose is to add class rooms to accommodate increased enrollment, to add libraries and other facilities, and do site development "to make up for deficiencies of the past 15 to 20 years and bring our system into the 20th century."

The vote was unanimous. Trustee John G. Donhoff was absent.

Construction would begin in November, 1966, on additions to Edna Maguire, Alto, Marin Terrace, Tamalpais Valley and Strawberry schools, in 1967 on Homestead School, and in 1969 on either Enchanted Knolls or Eastwood.

Under the proposal, 18 new class rooms would be added.

Edna Maguire would get two classrooms, a multi-use room, gymnasium, music room, home economics room, manual training room, boys' and girls' locker and shower rooms, plus small group instruction areas, according to Architect William Corlett.

Alto School would add a library, multi-use room and have the teachers' room expanded.

To Marin Terrace, three classrooms would be added, plus a new library, a multi-use room, small group instruction room and new faculty room.

Tamalpais Valley would add four classrooms to make it a 17-classroom school; the library would be remodeled, and three small group instruction rooms and a multi-use room would be added.

Conservative Party Elects New Leader

COMBINED AP & UPI

LONDON — Edward Heath was chosen leader of the Conservative party today. His opposition folded after he won a first ballot majority.

Heath headed Reginald Maudling,, 150-133, with 15 votes for Enoch Powell in the balloting among 298 Tory members of the House of Commons.

Heath, 49, has been the party spokesman for economic affairs.

The election system requires the candidate to win a majority of those voting among the 303 Conservative members of Parliament, with 15 per cent more of the total vote than the runner-up.

The new party leader will succeed Sir Alec Douglas-Home and seek to win the next general election.

There was less hoopla and ballyhoo but the three-way contest took on some of the atmosphere of a presidential nominating convention in the United States.

New Zealand Quints Born

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI)—Mrs. Shirley Ann Lawson, 26, gave birth today to New Zealand's first quintuplets, four girls and a boy. All were reported in good health.

Less than two hours later she was sitting up in bed sipping tea and musing aloud, "I expected four, but five, oh, dear me no."

Her husband, W.W. Lawson, owner of a fish and chips shop, said he felt as if he had been stopped by a traffic officer and was saying, "I didn't mean to do it."

Disarm Talk Resumes, But Under Cloud

GENEVA (UPI) — President Johnson called on the 17-nation disarmament conference today to achieve arms control agreements for the sake of the future of mankind.

Johnson's message was read to the conference as it resumed after a 10 month recess.

The conference also heard an appeal from United Nations Secretary General Thant for responsibility and restraint to prevent an intensified arms race.

The conference got off to a rough start when Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused the "Western imperialists" of committing aggression in Viet Nam, the Congo and Latin America and of preparing "for big war."

It was clear Tsarapkin meant the United States. He listed alleged preparations for a "big war" as including the calling up of reserves—an obvious reference to plans under consideration in Washington because of the growing Viet Nam crisis.

As Tsarapkin spoke Communist China cast a somber shadow over the Geneva talks by charging the United States wants a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear arms only to maintain its own nuclear superiority.

The statement was made by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in a message to a nuclear conference in Tokyo. He called the U.S. proposals for a treaty against proliferation of nuclear weapons a "fraud."

Sausalito Soldier Dies In Viet Nam

Capt. Clayton J. Mansfield Jr., 27, of Sausalito, due to return home from service in Viet Nam on Sept. 9, has been reported killed in action.

Mansfield, an adviser to a Vietnamese army unit, was reported killed July 20 while a passenger in a boat which struck a mine. His death was disclosed yesterday by the Defense Department.

Mansfield's wife, Suzanne, is employed at Man's World, a men's shop in the Village Fair, Sausalito, and resides at 5 Rodeo Avenue.

"I have no feelings," she said today.

Mrs. Mansfield said her husband's father was killed in World War II in the Battle of the Bulge.

The Mansfields had their home in Sausalito for one year. On her husband's return he was to go to work at University of San Francisco as an ROTC

Marin Painter Local Finds Itself Picketed By Union

Painters union picketed painters union last night in San Rafael.

Painters Local 83, meeting in the Labor Temple at 701 Mission Avenue, voted to cease negotiating jointly with San Francisco locals of the union and do its own negotiating with contractors.

As the vote ran against continuing joint negotiations, San Francisco locals placed a picket line outside the Labor Temple. Members of the Marin County union emerged from the meeting to find themselves picketed as "unfair."

The San Francisco locals have been stalemated in negotiations for a new three-year contract which would raise pay by 50 cents per hour each year (including fringe benefits) from the present $4.27 per hour for journeymen.

The dispute has not been over the pay, but over two points in the contract: union insistence that paint rollers cannot be used in painting public buildings, and on two coffee breaks per day, which the painter can either take or apply toward getting off early at the end of the week.

George R. Scott, president of the Marin Building and Construction Trades Council, said the Marin Painters Union local is willing to yield on both points.

Scott noted that union rules have permitted paint rollers in painting homes. "It has been unfair to allow them for one kind of painting and not another," he said, "particularly in forbidding them on public buildings, which adds to cost to the taxpayer. We're taxpayers, too."

As to the coffee breaks, Scott said Marin contractors are willing to allow coffee breaks but not to permit them to be accumulated for taking off early at week's end, since this would be impossible to police.

Robert Kunst, negotiations representative for the Marin County chapter of the Painting Contractors Assn., said today the action by Local 83 "opens the door for negotiations." He expressed confidence agreement can be reached on a new contract with the Marin local.

U. S. Jet Bombers Raid N. Viet Missile Bases

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — A fleet of 46 U.S. fighter-bombers today swooped down in low-level attacks on two North Vietnamese anti-aircraft missile sites, the Pentagon announced.

Three U.S. planes were shot down, the announcement said.

'CHUTES SEEN

Two parachutes were seen to open, indicating that two of the three U. S. pilots whose planes were struck by conventional anti-aircraft fire may have reached the ground safely.

The missile sites were 40 miles northwest of Hanoi. They were in addition to five anti-aircraft missile sites which have been spotted in the Hanoi area itself.

The Pentagon said conventional anti-aircraft fire was "intense," but no missiles were launched against the attacking U.S. planes.

FIRST SUCH RAID

This is the first time the United States has struck at any enemy missile bases, although it came close to such action during the Cuban crisis nearly three years ago.

The two sites, using semimobile equipment which could be put in place in as little as 24 hours, are in addition to five sites previously identified as under construction around Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told a news conference that U.S. pilots reported destruction of one of the new sites and damage to the other.

The Defense Department said it had been concluded that a U.S. Phantom jet shot down Saturday was struck by a missile from one of the sites attacked today.

It was the first use of an an-

LBJ, Cabinet Hold Viet Nam Huddle

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson summoned his Cabinet to a mid-day conference today on the war in Viet Nam.

"They're discussing the situation in Viet Nam and the deliberations that have been going on and are still going on," said White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Johnson has had a series of top level conferences during the past week on manpower and equipment needs to bolster the battle against the Communist guerrillas.

Johnson plans to summon Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to the White House today or tomorrow.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Senate Democratic leader, said "the question of Viet Nam was discussed incidentally" at a meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with Johnson today.

About 75,000 American military men are now in South Viet Nam, and there has been talk of increasing this total to 179,000.

Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 edge, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect. The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 900,000 more troops in South Viet Nam.

American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 wili be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Medicare Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security-health care bill zipped through the House today and headed for the Senate, its last stop before the White House and signing into law by President Johnson.

The vote was 307-116

The once highly controversial measure was approved by margins of 3 to 1 by both Senate and House earlier this year. This second run through is necessary because their bills varied and a conference committee had to work out a compromise measure.

The House acts first — at the start of business today with discussion limited to an hour. The Senate and President Johnson are expected to follow quickly, probably before the end of the week.

A major breakthrough in American social welfare legislation, the bill attempts to lighten the burden of aging in three basic ways:

1. Assure virtually all Americans 65 or older of hospitalization and nursing home protection at low cost.

2. Provide all Americans 65 or over protection against most doctor bills, again at minimal cost.

3. Increase 7 per cent, retroactive to last Jan. 1, benefits under already existing old age,

San Francisco's Supervisors Ask Tunnel To Span

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Board of Supervisors asked the State Highways Division Monday to tear down some of the Embarcadero Freeway and build a tunnel.

The tunnel would run to Golden Gate approaches. By an 8-2 vote the supervisors approved the freeway plan.

The proposal, which is subject to change, calls for a 4½-mile tunnel from the Golden Gate Bridge ramps at the Presidio to the Broadway turnoff of the elevated Embarcadero Freeway.

The scheme also states that the elevated freeway structure "must be phased out."

JOHN W. GARDNER
To succeed Celebreeze

New Health And Welfare Chief Named

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson announced today that Anthony J. Celebrezze is resigning as secretary of welfare to take a federal judgeship.

John W. Gardner, a Republican and president of the Carnegie Corp., will be named to the Cabinet post.

Johnson announced his fourth Cabinet appointment at a special ceremony in the flower garden outside his office. Celebrezze and Gardner, who was chairman of a special presidential task force on education last year, stood by.

Celebrezze, an Italian immigrant who was a longtime mayor of Cleveland, is being nominated for a vacancy on the Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which has headquarters in Cincinnati.

Gardner, besides heading the task force that helped prepare Johnson's 1965 legislative proposals in the field of education, was described by the President as having inspired last week's White House Conference on Education.

Gardner, who was born in Los Angeles in 1912, has been president of the Carnegie Corp. for the past 10 years. He also heads the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching.

Seven Counties' Attorneys Meet On Assessor Scandal

OAKLAND (AP) — A seven-county strategy conference opened here today into allegations of payoffs to certain county assessor employes for personal property tax reductions.

District attorneys of San Francisco, Alameda, San Joaquin, Contra Costa, Sacramento, San Diego and Orange counties conferred in the office of Alameda Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley with Marshall Mayer, assistant state attorney general.

Coakley has been trying to intervene in a civil action stemming from an attempt by James C. Tooke, 46, a Castro Valley accountant, to regain filing cabinets removed by Tooke's former assistant, accountant Norman Phillips, 48.

Tooke's suit to recover the files, currently locked in the Alameda County Jail, alleges Phillips stole the files.

In developments yesterday, San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden was served with a subpoena to appear before the Grand Jury next Monday to answer questions from Dist. Atty. John J. Ferdon.

Wolden refused to meet voluntarily earlier with Ferdon, who wants Wolden to answer an affidavit that Tooke "did offer and pay, directly or indirectly, bribes, money, or other consideration" to the assessor and his deputy, Max J. Newstat.

On another front, taxpayer suits were filed against 16 companies and various members of assessors offices in Santa Clara and Contra Costa counties. Similar charges were filed last Friday involving San Francisco and Alameda counties.

Senate Seats Dixie Jurist

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed former Mississippi Governor James P. Coleman as a Federal Judge yesterday despite charges that he is an unrepentant segregationist.

Coleman

The vote was 76 to 8.

The 51-year-old former governor was nominated by President Johnson to be a member of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, which handles most of the civil rights cases arising in the South.

Senators Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., led a fight against confirmation of the tall, slightly-graying Coleman.

Morse suggested that Coleman had been for segregation for expediency. "If expediency was his excuse then, how can we know that expediency will not control his decisions as a judge, too?" Morse asked. "An individual does not change his morals or his standards when he switches from one job to another."

Javits said Coleman, once an avowed segregationist, has shown "no change of conviction whatsoever."

Javits said that Coleman, who was Governor of Mississippi from 1956 to 1960, had "crowed" when running for another term in 1963 about how he had kept a Negro from being enrolled in the University of Mississippi.

Tycoon's Widow Denies Guilt

MIAMI (UPI)—Candace Mossler, 46, and Melvin Lane Powers, 23, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges they killed her millionaire husband because he interfered with their love affair.

Mrs. Mossler

Dade County Circuit Judge George E. Schultz set a trial date for Mrs. Mossler and Powers, her nephew by marriage, of Nov. 15. They will be tried together on first-degree murder charges.

The arraignment was the first meeting of the two suspects since before Powers' arrest in Houston, Tex., July 4, 1964, four days after the 69-year-old financier Jacques Mossler was slain in his Key Biscayne apartment here.

The arraignment was brief, and Mrs. Mossler and Powers didn't exchange more than a glance. Afterward they went into a conference with attorneys.

Mossler was stabbed and beaten to death. Last week prosecutors charged Powers killed him as a result of a "violent" love for Candace.

More Cloudbursts Soak Flooded Eastern Colorado

DENVER (UPI) — Damage estimates mounted today in flood-battered eastern Colorado. The weatherman, meanwhile, made no promise that the record rains would stop any time soon.

Cloudbursts hit scattered areas again last night. The suburbs of Arvada, Lakewood and Wheat Ridge west of Denver all reported bad street and basement flooding. The rising South Platte River washed over the Burlington Railroad tracks at Hillrose, Colo.

There were three confirmed deaths in the weekend floods, the second series of floods in Colorado this summer. Two other persons were missing and one of them was presumed dead.

The bodies of two Fountain, Colo., children were recovered Saturday and Sunday. They were identified as Debbie Foote, 5, and her brother, Frank, 4. Their 13-month-old sister Julia was also presumed drowned.

Yesterday, the body of George E. Kimbriel was found in an irrigation canal near Hudson, Colo. His empty car had been discovered in the canal Sunday.

The other missing person was Charles R. White, 18, of Colorado Springs. He did not return home Saturday, the day the flooding hit there, and there have been no clues to his whereabouts.

Officials in the governor's office made a preliminary estimate of damage following Saturday's deluge at $250,000. They were busy revising the figures Monday. Their estimates applied mainly to public facilities and washouts of repair work begun after the June flood.

In Jefferson County west of Denver, the damage to county roads and bridges was set at $257,000, and that was prior to Monday night's trouble. Damages to city roads and bridges in the county seat of Golden were estimated at an additional $68,000 or more.

When the Erquiaga Arms Co. in the City of Industry was raided March 26, Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch said his office had information the machine guns were destined for private armies in California. Knudson denied the charge.

Rights Paraders Throng In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The civil rights anthem "We Shall Overcome" thundered from an estimated 10,000 persons yesterday as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., climaxed his three-day Chicago visit with a march to City Hall.

Whites and Negroes jammed in La Salle Street to hear the integration leader from Atlanta, Ga. The big parade's rear guard never got past State and Madison streets, four blocks from City Hall.

King arranged to fly to Cleveland, Ohio, today to start a two-day round of appearances similar to the more than 18 street rallies, luncheons, marches and church services at which he appeared from Friday night through yesterday in Chicago.

The Cleveland visit is the second in a swing of four Northern cities. Philadelphia and Washington will follow Cleveland.

Monday's parade began in Grant Park on the lake shore, where almost daily marches to City Hall have originated since June 10. The purpose e of the marches has been to demand ouster of Benjamii C. Willis from his post as schools superintendent and to force Mayor Richard J. Daley to step into a schools situation which marchers claim is plagued by de facto egregation.

The purpose of the march — "Ben Willis must go!" as the marchers shouted it — was the same. But there were many more than the usual 100-odd daily marchers. King, 36, estimated the marchers at double to triple the 10,000 in a police estimate.

The police estimate did not include the four- and five-deep throngs that lined either side of the broad Loop streets as paraders filed past 25 abreast. Police said the line stretched eight blocks along the 1-block parade route.

Daley was in Detroit at the National League of Cities conference.

'Head Start' Effort Must Continue, Humphrey Says

DETROIT (AP)—The federal Head-Start program will be a false start unless local communities continue the work begun this summer, Vice President Hubert Humphrey warned today.

Humphrey discussed the preschool training program and other anti-poverty measures in remarks prepared for delivery at the National League of Cities' 42nd annual Congress of Cities.

"It will do the Head-Start child very little good if he must return to the same housing, to the same unemployed, illiterate parent, to the same neglected school system," he told an audience of city officials from around the nation.

The vice president also called again for creation of a cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs.

And he promised implementation of a league proposal for "large-scale research projects to be brought to bear on problems of urban living—research of the kind we have utilized in the federal government in space and defense."

The congress, attended by some 2,000 city officials, runs through tomorrow.

FIRE BOMBING PUNCTUATES RIGHTS TRIAL

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A fire bomb exploded late last night outside the office of three civil rights attorneys pleading federal court contempt proceedings here against Bogalusa police officials.

The incendiary device punctured an automobile radiator and broke the glass in the front door of the law office of Robert Collins, Nils Douglass and Lolis Elie.

The three attorneys represented the Congress of Racial Equality in federal court yesterday as U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry began hearing the contempt proceedings launched by the civil rights organization and the Department of Justice.

Steel Firms Fined For Price Fixing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four major steel companies and a trade association yesterday were slapped with fines totaling $150,000 after they submitted pleas of "no contest" to a federal charge of conspiring to fix prices and rig bids on steel forgings.

The heaviest fine, $40,000, was imposed on Bethlehem Steel Co. U.S. Steel Corp. and Midvale-Heppenstall Co., the Trade Association, were fined $35,000 each, Erie Forge & Steel Corp. was fined $25,000 and the Open ie Forging Institute Inc., $15,000.

The judgments were handed down by Chief Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

For two of the companies, U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel, it was the second heavy fine imposed in the past four days. They were among eight steel firms fined $50,000 each in another anti-trust indictment last Friday.

The indictment against the five companies was returned by a federal grand jury in October, 1962. It accused them of conspiring to fix prices and rig bids during a 13-year period from 1948 to 1961 in the sale of steel forgings to the U.S. Army, the U.S. Navy, electrical companies and other purchasers.

MOTEL FOR TIBURON—A 61-unit motel will be constructed on Tiburon Boulevard in the commercial area of Tiburon, after plans won approval of the city council last night. The project will include a swimming pool and an office building, at right foreground. Louis O. Britt, Tiburon designer, and architect Lee Karney prepared the plans. Under the provisions of city approval, construction must start in six months.

Motel Plan For Tiburon Approved

A 61-unit motel and an office building will be constructed in the commercial area of Tiburon following approval last night of motel plans by the city council.

The motel, averaging 30 feet in height, will be constructed between the main fire station and Safeway store. The related office building will be next to it.

The motel will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Farlatti of Novato, who said they will own the building on land owned by Belvedere developer Fred G. Zelinsky.

The council affirmed earlier planning commission approval of the plans by 3-2 vote, with Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge and councilman Anne L. Ellinwood opposing.

The building will help set the "general tone of what Tiburon is. For all our platitudes and bromides about being another Carmel, it isn't working out—more like another Fisherman's Wharf," said Councilman Fred C. Hannahs. But when vote time came, Hannahs said he had no better alternative to the building and voted for approval.

"It's too big for this town," Strawbridge said, adding he would prefer a 40-room motel.

"I like this," said Councilman Jacqueline A. Parnell. "I think it's an eminently suitable use of the land. No one likes tourists but everyone talks about visitors."

She noted that residents favored lower taxes but no one liked "dirty old industry" which might broaden the tax base.

She said she preferred the motel type of visitors, who would possibly stay more than one day, to "the people who come racing in on Saturday night and tear the town apart."

In considering other planning items, during the regular council review of all planning commission action, which last night took three hours, the council agreed to ask the advice of planning consultants on the proposed Marinero Heights development of 42 dwelling units in duplex and triplex buildings on Marinero Circle.

The city planning advisors, Williams, Cook and Mocine of San Francisco, will study the area where developer Kurt Heath of Tiburon Development Associates wants to construct 14 buildings.

Councilmen asked that consultants make recommendations on density, land coverage and building height for the area. Heath agreed to pay half the unspecified cost of the study, the city to pay the other half.

Heath promised to deed to the city almost two acres of land next to the development for use as a park.

The council decision overrode the planning commission, which approved the development with certain conditions on construction and achitecture.

"I don't see why we have to set ourself up as God," said Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. "We have praised them (planning commission) in the past and now we're slapping them in the face."

"The planning commission is new, the council's new," answered Mayor Strawbridge. "Therefore I think that all precautions to safeguard the future of Tiburon . . . are in order."

"Review should be used as a safety valve and not for duplicating action of the planning commission," Hoffmire retorted.

demolished at Homestead, and two new ones built plus a library, multi-use room and small group instruction rooms. Eastwood or Enchanted Knolls would become a seven-classroom facility with library and multi-use room.

Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson estimated the bonds would increase the tax rate about 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation but noted that in three years the state school building loan will be paid, thus dropping the tax rate about 25 cents.

Trustees discussed whether to include funds for landscaping in the bond issue and, with approval of citizens in the audience, agreed they should be. Corlett said landscaping helps keep down maintenance costs.

A letter was read from Mrs. Carl Hepp suggesting that if all kindergarten through sixth grade schools were converted to kindergarten through fifth grade, it would free additional classroom space at each school. This could help win support for the bond issue, she said.

The board agreed to meet Aug. 2 to adopt the fiscal 1966 budget, and again Aug. 9.

No Conservative Leader Selected

LONDON (AP) — Conservative members of the House of Commons gave Edward Heath the lead today on a first ballot in voting for a new party leader but he failed to obtain the necessary margin. A second ballot was ordered Thursday.

Health, 49, the party's spokesman on economic affairs, received 150 of the 298 votes cast. Reginald Maudling, 48, a former chancellor of the exchequer, received 133 and Enoch Powell, 53, former minister of health, got 15.

Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the former prime minister who led the party to defeat last fall, resigned as party leader last week after steadily increasing dissatisfaction with his leadership.

Assemblyman Denies Bribe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man accused with Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan of soliciting a bribe to block a freeway project denied in court today that he ever received any money in connection with the plan.

His attorney asked Inglewood shoe store operator Philip Froomer if he had been paid anything to fight the freeway.

McMillan, 65, and Froomer, 62, are accused of asking a group of men to contribute $10,000 toward a campaign against plans to route the Marina Freeway through Culver City. A judge is hearing their non-jury trial.

Burglars Ransack Home Filing Cabinet

A filing cabinet in the home of Lorraine S. Johnsen, 15 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, was ransacked in a burglary yesterday, sheriff's officers reported.

Mrs. Johnsen said she returned home at 10:45 p.m. and noticed the front door was ajar. She said entry was through a bedroom window. The cabinet was opened in the den, but nothing was believed taken.

San Rafaelite Beaten Due To Grudge

James G. Lebarkos of the Carmel Hotel, 830 B Street, was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital with a three-inch gash in his scalp. Doctors said he would probably be released today.

Lebarkos said he was in Dave's Tavern at Second and B streets, San Rafael, when Alexander John Deans, 50, of 111 West Street, San Rafael, walked up, grabbed his cane and struck him over the head.

Deans, who was booked at county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon by San Rafael police, said Lebarkos had slapped him two weeks ago and he was still mad about it when he saw the man last night. Bail was set at $1,000.

Reapportionment Session Seen During October

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A leading senator feels that a recent court ruling could prompt lawmakers to compromise on legislative reapportionment at a special session in October.

Chairman Stephen P. Teale, D-West Point, of the Senate Reapportionment Committee said yesterday that a court decision ordering realignment of the Assembly has changed the situation.

He said that now both the Senate and the Assembly have "a problem" which "creates a bona fide trading situation."

Teale added that, if Gov. edmund G. Brown calls the 1965 legislature into special session in October as expected, "We are more apt to have a climate conducive to compromise."

More Mobs Surging In Athens Streets

ATHENS (UPI) — A mob of 10,000 workers and students surged through the streets of Athens today in an anti-government demonstration. They attacked a bus and an army car but no major rioting erupted.

The demonstrators took to the streets after the government foiled plans for a nationwide protest strike by threatening to draft strikers into the Greek army. The government said most of the demonstrators were Communists.

Rescuers Report Plane Survivors

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Three persons were rescued from the ocean today after parachuting from either a crashing plane or collision of two aircraft 75 miles south-southwest of here, the U. S. Coast Guard said.

Four parachutes were reported seen by a U.S. Navy aircraft that reported the crash to the Coast Guard.

Navy ships, two amphibian planes and a helicopter from the Coast Guard were searching for a fourth person who possibly ejected, the Coast Guard spokesman said.

Car Window Pelted

John E. Lang of 38 Sirard Lane, San Rafael, told police yesterday that someone shot or threw a small rock or pellet through the rear window of his car while he was driving on Fifth Avenue, east of California Street, shortly before.

MEDICARE

Spurs to quick action are the bill's status as top priority on the President's legislative list and the consideration that if it becomes law by the end of the month pensioners will receive the 7 per cent increase along with their regular September payments.

The bill, once the target of cries of "socialized medicine," represents the broadest expansion of the Social Security System since its inception during President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

Alone with the broadened and new benefits will come an increase in Social Security taxes — for workers, bosses and the self-employed. The increase will continue to mount. As of next Jan. 1, the first $6,600 will be taxable instead of the current $4,800.

This year the most a worker has to pay for Social Security is $174. His boss has to pay the same amount for him. Under current law this maximum was to rise to $198 for 1966 and 1967 and to $223.20 in 1968.

If and when the bill becomes law, the worker earning at least $6,600 will pay $277.20 next year, and his employer the same. In 1967 and 1968 they each will pay $290.40 and by 1975 they will be paying $356.40 each.

This is to help support a program whose cost has been estimated at just under $6.5 billion a year.

The benefits provided older Americans under this bill are many. Here, in capsule, are some:

— 60 days of hospitalization at a cost of $40. Then, another 30 days for $10 a day.

— For payment of $3 a month, inclusion in a federally matched and supervised insurance system that will provide coverage for 80 per cent of most doctor's bills in a year, the patient paying the first $50.

Lodge Confirmed To Envoy Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge's nomination as ambassador to South Viet Nam was approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today after he gave members a briefing lasting nearly three hours.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., told reporters after the closed session that Lodge was unable to throw any light on any plans for increasing the U.S. commitment to South Viet Nam since he had not been in on White House conferences under way the past several days.

Fulbright said the nomination was approved by voice vote without a dissent.

Weather Delays Whale Welcome

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle's big whale-welcoming extravaganza was scuttled by weather today. A severe windstorm delayed Namu's arrival 24 hours.

The last 10 miles of a 400-mile trip may be the hardest.

Series, Booklet On Medicare Set

A new series of public service articles and an authoritative book answering the questions and dispelling the doubts about the new Medicare/Social Security legislation will be available exclusively in this area to the readers of the Independent-Journal.

A 14-part illustrated series detailing the increased benefits . . . and increased costs . . . of the new bill will begin in this newspaper as soon as President Johnson signs the legislation.

A colorful, illustrated booklet of 80 pages, printed on durable stock and permanently bound for ready reference, will expand on the series and add a specially designed family security planning chart. Advance orders for the booklet, which sells at $1, are being urged by the Independent-Journal so that our readers may get the complete Medicare/Social Security story immediately after the bill is signed.

Series and booklet both are entitled:

"What You've Got Coming from Medicare and Social Security; A Complete Guide to Your Legal Rights."

Both are written especially for newspaper readers by an experienced newsman, Social Security reporter, science and medical writer, John Troan.

Troan has been called "the most qualified man in America" to write such a definitive roundup of information on Medicare/Social Security legislation.

Clearly defined in understandable newspaper language will be such vital considerations as:

How Medicare will affect retirement plans;

Hospitalization benefits, post-hospital care; home nursing; outpatient services; protection for all persons over 65. 6 Detailed Social Security retirement benefit increases; disability benefit increases.

New cost structures, salary deductions due to boosted Social Security benefits, new Medicare provisions.

Easy-to-understand digest of all the information of this comprehensive new plan.

Author-expert Troan has been writing about Social Security since 1940. His interest in the complex subject has never waned during the quarter-century he's written and studied the changing structures of the law.

During the same period he covered scientific and medical marvels, largely from Washington where he became Scripps-Howard's science-medical writer and, incidentally, occupied a good legislative listening post.

The editors of the Independent-Journal are proud to offer this distinguished public service to their readers of all ages. It is available only to newspaper readers. The booklet is the first comprehensive single volume ever to be written digesting all the provisions of the new law.

The family financial security planner, of special interest to couples between the ages of 25 and 45, instructs in a sound financial protection plan, provides space for recording insurance, bank, pension, securities listings —a complete family record.

Use the convenient coupon below to reserve your copy, or copies, of the all-new, exclusive family security handbook. Orders will be sent out the day the bill is signed into law.

And watch for the series beginning the same day in the Independent-Journal. Family "must" reading will be:

Following a honeymoon in Hawaii, Mansfield became an officer of an armored unit at Fort Knox, Ky.

He was next stationed at Erlangen, Germany, for four years where his specialty was tanks. From there he went to Fort Benning, Ga., in 1963, where he was involved in cross-training and attended advanced infantry school.

Mansfield was transferred to Fort Bragg, Ky., to prepare for Viet Nam, his wife said, and went overseas last September.

ti-aircraft missile in the Vietnamese war. Today's statement was the first official confirmation that the Phantom had been struck by a missile at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

Today's attack apparently was made from tree-top level where missiles would be ineffective against the raiders.

Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester said the missiles are believed to be the same as the Soviet-built types installed in Cuba, known as the SAM-2.

These have a range of about 25 miles.

Other air and ground action against Communist positions in South Viet Nam killed an estimated 198 guerrillas in a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, American planes rained 12 tons of bombs today on a Communist power plant at Thanh Hoa, 75 miles south of Hanoi.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Vietnamese air force planes flew 232 sorties against Viet Cong supply and training areas, troop concentrations, encampments and rest bivouacs.

The spokesman estimated that 187 guerrillas were killed, more than 470 buildings destroyed or damaged, two sampans sunk and two others damaged.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Once Upon A Yac' Is No Disaster

By KARL BARRON

The program note of "Hello, Hello," a song by Damon Pennington and director H. J. Susser, with music by Dale Alstrom, sets the feeling for "Once Upon a Yac," which opened last night at the Festival Theater in San Anselmo.

It says "just about everybody takes part in this disaster." Don't get us wrong. This show, subtitled "A Faux Pas for a Monday Night," is no disaster. In its first portion it's a swinging collection of teen-age comments on the world we live in, and in its second half, Moliere's comedy, "The Physician In Spite of Himself."

The whole thing will be presented by the Festival Theater's Young Actors Company for the remaining Mondays in August, in Tom Borden's sets for the Straw Hat Revue, playing same place—Wednesday through Saturday nights.

One of the outstanding features of this zany revue—"Once Upon a Yac" — is its use of cinefusion, the technique of live actors moving in and out of a filmed sequence. A highlight comes as Ted Herrmann and Bill Grace (both very talented young men) swing from the revolving sign of the Jack Tar Hotel, then enter a car and drive away.

Choreography by Judy Navas is excellent as it ties in with photography by Dave Leach and Mike Riggs, both College of Marin students, while Miss Navas acquits herself well in several acting roles.

All these youngsters, ranging from early high school to early college, play with tremendous vitality—something not always true of young actors. Here ebullience is a mainstream.

Witness the hysterical "war chant" S.O.B. vs. F.O.B. (Save Our Bay and Fill Our Bay Committees). This skit, written by Louise Nemschoff, Barbara Solomon and Miss Navas, is probably the high spot of the first—and original — half, although "Gas a Go-Go" and U-2 Can Be a Horace Wink," both by Mike Dorn and Ted Herrmann, are very funny; as is "The Sub-committee," written by Navas, Pennington and Susser, whose direction, incidentally, sparkles.

So much for the first half. The second, to this reviewer, does not live up to what came before. I think it is because rather than basically playing themselves, the young actors are seen in the roles of Moliere's mature characters and fail to carry the impact that their earlier appearances did.

This is not to say the Doctor was bad. It just wasn't so good. But the whole thing is well worth a trip to Festival Theater next Monday night. Curtain is at 8:00 p.m., and the show breaks by 10:30.

U.N. Financial Deadlock Seen As Goldberg Task

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's new ambassador to the United Nations says the first—and probably one of the most formidable — of his tasks will be an effort to resolve the financial deadlock which has paralyzed the organization for nearly a year.

Former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg planned to present his credentials formally to U. N. Secretary General Thant tomorrow.

Goldberg, who was sworn in yesterday at a White House ceremony, said "the immediate task at hand is to resolve the constitutional crisis at the United Nations." He said that the United Nations money troubles "hover like a specter over the arena of international policites."

But he added that in a period of disagreement within the world organization there should not be undue pessimism but recognition of the numerous U. N. achievements in Iran, Korea, Suez, the Congo and Cyprus.

In addition to the financial deadlock, the 56-year-old one-time labor lawyer also may be called upon in the near future to explain and defend a new and intensified U. S. effort in the Viet Nam war.

Because of this, Goldberg has been included among the participants at several of the recent series of top-level strategy meetings President Johnson has held.

As for . N. finances, it was expected that Goldberg's views will be heard Aug. 16 when the United Nations 33-member Finance Committee meets.

Probe Demanded On Plant Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has called for an investigation into the factors surrounding cancellation of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. to build a $50 million synthetic rubber plant for Romania.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has charged in a Senate speech that Firestone dropped its plans because of "unusual competitive pressures" and "a nuisance boycott campaign by an extremist political organization."

MICHIGAN MAN TAKES CAL POST

Free Speach Leader Refuses Probation; Savio And Bride Handed Jail Sentences

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The University of California at Berkeley will have a new chancellor Oct. 1 and the fiery student who did as much as anyone to force the change of command today faced a 120-day jail term.

University of California President Clark Kerr announced yesterday the appointment of University of Michigan Vice President Roger W. Heyns, 47, as chancellor.

Heyns will take over his new post about one year after the campus was rocked by a series of demonstrations in which students demanded more on-campus political freedom.

These demonstrations were climaxed Dec. 2-3 by a night-long student sit-in at the school administration building. State police finally surrounded the building and made 778 arrests. Mario Savio, 22, a fast-talking New Yorker who led the student rebellion, yesterday drew a 120-day sentence for his role in the uprising. It was the stiffest penalty handed out yet by Judge Rupert Crittenden, who so far has sentenced 111 demonstrators.

Following the student uprisings and the backing of the rebels' position by faculty groups, Chancellor Edward W. Strong resigned and was replaced temporarily Jan. 2 by Martin Meyerson, dean of the College of Environmental Design.

Meyerson was supported by students and faculty, but was known to be unpopular with the Board of Regents, who thought him too lenient with student rule breakers.

There followed a lengthy search for a permanent chancellor. Chairman Edward Carter once said frankly in explaining the long delay "we are looking for someone with a combination of qualities no individual can possibly have." Kerr quipped, "In fact, we want to make absolutely sure he can walk across the Golden Gate—on top of the water."

The choice of Heyns was seen as a clear decision in favor of moderation by the regents and a rejection of some regents' call for a strict disciplinarian.

"I don't think I'm a disciplinarian at all," Heyns said after his appointment. "I enjoy working with people and if we have differences we sit down and try to iron them out. I don't wave a big stick or have an iron fist in a velvet glove.

"But on the other hand I think all of us like to live in a stable structure and know the ground rules."

In sentencing the Sproul Hall sit-ins, Judge Crittenden has imposed among the terms of probation a provision that the defendants must not participate in any illegal demonstrations.

About two-thirds of the 111 sentenced so far have indicated they would go to jail rather than refrain from further demonstrations.

Savio, who has led defendants in this position, was first sentenced to 90 days and probation.

He refused probation and told the judge he believed his stipulation was an attempt to throttle student participation in civil rights and other political activity.

With American politics "presently in the hands of moral and intellectual bankrupts, rebellion is a positive duty," Savio said.

Crittenden, a white-haired former criminal lawyer, promptly added 30 more days to the sentence. Savio's bride, Suzanne, also turned down probation and was sentenced to 45 days in jail.

Judge Crittenden is scheduled to sentence a total of 750 demonstrators. Of the remaining 23, one died, eight are still to be tried, eight are juveniles, and charges against six were dropped.

Castro Still Playing Coy About Aide

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro kept Cuba and the world guessing today about the mysterious disappearance of Industry Minister Ernesto (Che) Guevara.

Castro spoke for three hours yesterday in Santa Clara, Cuba, where Guevara is a guerrilla hero, and only mentioned him once. He spent most of the time accusing the United States of infiltrating the country with arms and agents.

Guevara has not been seen in public since March.

Castro charged that the United States is still "incessantly" infiltrating agents, arms and explosives into Cuba in hopes of crushing his regime through counter-revolution.

He declared these alleged actions would fail but said, nevertheless, he is prepared to assemble a division-sized unit of newly created "bandit fighting battalions" to cope with them if necessary.

Yorty Demands Anti-Bookie Aid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty has complained that the state collects over $40 million a year from horse racing and Los Angeles gets no funds to combat bookmaking.

Yorty sent letters to Gov. Brown and lesgislators yesterday asking that Los Angeles receive race track taxes to finance its fight against the bookies.

The mayor said the city's police budget for bookmaking suppression is $717,566, but it received none of the $43,442,481 collected by the state in the fiscal year ending in June 1964.

Of the tax money collected $750,000 is allocated for wildlife restoration, Yorty's letter said.

"The relationship of this activity to horse racing is unclear to me and I believe to the municipal taxpayer," Yorty said.

Novato Youth Gets Burglary Sentence

Cregg Ernest Bartolomie, 19, was given a six-month suspended jail sentence, ordered to actually serve 45 days, and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for burglary.

Bartolomie, of 1410 Buchanan Street, Novato, was one of three youths charged with the April 21 burglary of Novato High School. He pleaded guilty. Kirk Allen, 18, of 131 Grande Vista, Novato, was fined $550 for the offense on June 7. Terry Russell, stationed in the Army at Fort Sam Houston in Texas, still faces trial.

North Korea Charged With Truce Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command in Korea charged the North Korean Communists today with a series of armistice violations, including a clash 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Maj. Gen. William P. Yarborough told the Joint Military Armistice Commission North Korea sent "an armed killer patrol across the military demarcation line" July 19 and the patrol "threw hand grenades at our soldiers in direct and flagrant violation of the cease-fire."

Yarborough, the senior U.N. Command delegate to the truce talks, also said that four armed men from North Korea opened fire on South Korean police agents and killed two of them July 18 in the Songchu resort area 5 miles north of Seoul.

"Two of your armed thugs were captured in the incident," he told North Korean Maj. Gen. Chung-kook.

Chung-kook denied the charges and said the United States had manufactured the incidents.

Countywide Chamber Of Commerce Backed

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, commenting on an editorial in last Saturday's Independent-Journal by editor-assistant publisher Jack Craemer, said the idea of a Marin County Chamber of Commerce was "well-taken."

"I am hopeful that the local chambers will consider it," Storer said.

Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker also said they favor a countywide chamber of commerce.

Craemer's editorial also questioned need for hiring of an assistant county administrator for business development at $13,200 a year.

Storer said he thinks the money will be well spent if the county gets tangible results. "I would give it a year and review it at that time," he said.

Leydecker said he was satisfied that hiring of a business development aide "will work."

Chairman Peter H. Behr said he was surprised that "he (Craemer) didn't know we had guides" at the Civic Center.

"If the publisher would read his own reporters and own newspaper, he would have better facts," Behr said. "When he sits down to write editorials, he should have the information his own newspaper publishes."

The comments came at the start of the meeting during the portion devoted to introduction of matters by supervisors, which has been known as "show and tell" time.

Kettenhofen suggested that city representatives on the Marin County Transit District Board be "one from Novato and one from San Rafael."

Novato is the major commuting area and San Rafael is the major city in the county, he said. "I have no specific person to suggest, simply philosophy."

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the appointment of city representatives would be made by the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, so the board took no action.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Unanimously voted to ask Gov. Edmund G. Brown to call a special session of the state legislature to bring about property tax reforms.

2. Asked the county planning department to study the feasibility setting up an agricultural zone to be applied to ranch land.

3. Agreed to lease floor space from A. H. Tresch at the Tresch Triangle, South Novato Boulevard, for the new location of the Novato branch of the county library for $544 a month starting Sunday. The lease runs for two years with option to renew.

4. Set for Aug. 10 at 9:30 a.m. public hearing on a resolution to remove hazardous weeds in the Marinwood Community Services District.

5. Sold San Rafael High School District bonds totaling $390,000 to the Bank of America, low bidder, at an interest rate of 3.23 per cent. There were seven bids on the bonds ranging to 3.32 per cent.

6. Appointed Arthur Miller Jr. of 89 Cole Drive to the Marin City Community Services District Board to succeed Skyral Sweeney, who resigned because he moved from the area.

7. Agreed to invite Jerome Gilbert of Novato, a member of the Bay Regional Water Pollution Control Board, and a second member of the pollution board to meet with supervisors to discuss cooperative efforts to solve Richardson Bay sewage problems.

8. Approved an agreement with the federal government for acquisition of Harbor Cove property, which would provide a federal grant of $20,295 toward the $67,650 cost and a pledge from the county to keep the area in open space.

9. Denied a request from the Marin Institute on Alcoholism for a $3,000 contribution to enable the institute to operate for three months. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the board did not have the authority to donate "public funds for this purpose, on a short-term basis."

10. Extended employment of Douglas J. Quiett as a consultant on the county's Economic Opportunity Act program for one month at a salary of $475.

11. Authorized lending $350,000 to the Dixie School District and $60,000 to the Lagunitas School District so the districts can meet their financial obligations while waiting for tax monies.

10. Passed a resolution raising the salary for county obstetricians from $500 to $600 a month, effective July 1.

13. Set for Aug. 10 at 1:30 p.m. hearing on a proposed amendment to the Richardson Bay master plan to include the proposed Bothin Real Estate Co. Marina.

14. Set for Aug. 17 at 1:30 p.m. hearing on a proposed amendment to the Lucas Valley planned community master plan which would redesignate a 10.5 acre parcel adjacent to Lucas Valley Road, west of Mount Shasta Drive and south of Miller Creek, from apartment and townhouse to single-family housing.

15. Set for Aug. 17 at 1:30 p.m. public hearing on the Muir Meadows planned residential master plan for a portion of Park Hill Unit 1 subdivision, abutting Panoramic Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

16. Appointed Mona V. Elder as senior stenographer clerk, auditor-controller's office at $399 per month; Robert Milton Perry, radio technician, communications department at $590; Claryce A. Panke, senior stenographer clerk, county clerk's office at $399; Katherine B. Brooke, deputy clerk I, municipal court at $345; John L. Forsdal, deputy, at $436, Jeannette Mae Canziani, matron 1, at $440, Esther L. Bessey and Reva M. Lane, intermediate typist clerks at $345 each, sheriff's office; Richard Carroll Sloan, deputy probation officer 1, at $510, probation department; Margaret A. Houston, draftsman 1, at $485, Robert H. Davis, heavy equipment operator, at $562, James F. Reis and Dennis Gerbich, maintenance men II, each at $463, and Charles J. Zaro, senior building maintenance man at $510, public works department, Sheila Feider, intermediate typist clerk, at $345, Marion F. Hoge, senior clerk, at $380, Patricia Kuhn and Linda Moyer, social workers II, each at $486, public social services department.

17. Set for Aug. 3 at 9:30 a.m. hearing on proposed assessment roll increases.

18. Promoted Thomas Lightfoot from deputy sheriff to sheriff's sergeant, raising his pay from $650 to $683.

19. Approved expenditure of $3,500 to provide insurance coverage for false arrest through the Marin Assn. of Insurance Agents, and authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to study the feasibility of obtaining insurance on a competitive basis rather than through the association.

20. Awarded E. A. Forde and Co. of Corte Madera a $13,738 contract to install curbs and gutters in the Main Street Special Assessment District, Tamalpais Valley.

Richardson Bay School Burgled

Burglars entered the principal's office and cafeteria last night at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito and stole two typewriters, two movie projectors and an adding machine.

Orpha Barnes, school employee, reported the loss when she arrived for work today at 7 a.m.

Police were told that entry was made to the principal's office by breaking a window. Desk drawers were ransacked, as well as files.

Atrocities Charged In Dominican Strife

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council has condemned violations of human rights in the Dominican Republic but blamed neither the junta nor the rebels.

The council action yesterday followed a report from the Organization of American States that 17 persons found shot to death in junta territory probably had been executed with the knowledge of the authorities.

Council To Consider Ban On Salesmen

Adoption of an ordinance banning uninvited door-to-door salesmen from San Anselmo will be discussed by the city council at 8 p.m. today at city hall.

Re-introduction of the county master plan for parks and recreation for city council approval is scheduled.

Sausalito Is Sued

City of Sausalito yesterday was sued in Marin Superior Court for $25,000 by a San Rafael resident who alleges negligent maintenance of a city sidewalk in the 200 block of Caledonia Street resulted in her tripping and suffering a leg injury.

Rose Mary Bloom, 48 Locksly Lane, charges the accident occurred last Sept. 7.

'Votomatic' Machine Approved

Voting machines were approved by a margin of almost 10 to one by Marin residents who used a voting device at the Marin Art and Garden Fair early this month.

The vote was conducted by the Leagues of Women Voters in Marin, who demonstrated a "votomatic" vote recorder at the fair.

Voting devices were preferred by 432 to 47 over manual voting, the leagues reported yesterday to Marin County supervisors.

"Many people living in Marin commented on the 'outdated' method of voting now used," the leagues reported.

They aproved city-county government for Marin by a 257-203 vote, and rejected a proposal to lower the voting age to 18 by a 367-189 vote.

During the demonstration, the league also registered 130 voters.

Flood Bites Into Paper Company's Profits Report

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Crown Zellerbach Corp. reported today $34.8 million in sales volume for the first six months of 1965, a record first half. Sales gained 4 per cent.

But the six-month earnings of $22 million slumped 6 per cent under 1964's first half. This year's first half earnings amounted to $1.41 a share, compared with $1.49 a year ago.

The company noted that the price of newsprint in the western marketing area is $10 a ton lower than a year ago.

Two main causes of profit decline were the flooding out of a major mill early in the year and the costs of outside purchases of pulp and paper to meet customer needs, the firm reported.

Chile Road Study Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The World Bank has agreed to help finance a study designed to prepare a five-year highway improvement program in Chile.

Rec Commission Tends Toward Conservation

Marin County appeared last night to be headed toward creation of a "parks, conservation and recreation commission."

This came out as the county board of supervisors held a two-hour workshop session with four members of what now is called the parks and recreation commission.

The meeting was an outgrowth of suggestions, first by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer and later by County Administrator Alan Bruce, that the commission's emphasis be shifted toward acquiring open space, letting the cities take care of recreation programs.

Bruce had urged that the word "recreation" be dropped from the commission's name altogether, with "conservation" in its place. Apparent consensus last night was that both words might be contained in the name of a reorganized group.

Another possibility discussed, however, was that of forming a separate body for conservation, allowing the park and recreation group to continue. Commission Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson at first urged this, insisting that conservation needs are sometimes in conflict with recreation programs.

Lawson said a group embracing both would be "in conflict with itself."

Chairman Peter H. Behr said having two groups would not eliminate the conflict, since the supervisors would still have to determine which of the two groups' programs would get priority.

Commissioner Elizabeth Banning Davies urged that the county stay out of the recreation business, but conceded that recreation needs at the Civic Center complex might fall into a special category.

When Behr polled commissioners to learn if there was a consensus, Commissioner Lothar Salin recommended against setting up separate groups for recreation and conservation. Commissioner Peter Gottheiner urged that all three functions be kept together.

Bruce concluded that "an appropriate compromise" appeared to be inclusion of all three words, with recreation put last. Gottheiner suggested that different members of the commission—which supervisors already have agreed to expand from five to seven members—be assigned to concentrate on each of the three functions.

Another suggestion, from Supervisor William A. Gnoss, sparked brief disagreement between Behr and Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Gnoss said the county should create small road-side rest stops for motorists, and should preserve parcels of farm land to prevent there being a time when "children won't know what a cow is."

Behr said the answer might be for the county to "zone a green belt." Kettenhofen, however, said he would "never vote for zoning a planned green belt which is set up involuntarily."

Demos To Hear Biography Author

Winthrop G. Griffith, 34, who wrote Vice President Hubert Humphrey's biography, will speak to Marin Democrats in Santa Venetia tomorrow night.

He will be guest of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, which meets for a potluck dinner at Congregation Rodef Shalom, 170 North San Pedro Road.

Chairman Thomas A. Skornia announced cocktails will be served at 5:30 and dinner at 7 p.m.

Wildflower Park Name Is Changed

Howell is the author of "Flora of Marin County" and "Flora of the Tiburon Peninsula, Marin County."

Mrs. Robert Bastian, president of the Marin Landmarks Society, suggested the name change with the comment that Howell was "responsible for the chain of events which led to the preservation of this particular botanical area of open space."

Tahoe Man Draws 90 Day Sentence

A 90-day county jail term was given John Valentine Harrell, 33, yesterday by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court on his earlier guilty plea to battery on a Lucas Valley school teacher.

Harrell, of Tahoe City, broke into the home of Ann Royale, 23, of 195 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, on May 18.

Supervisors Deny Any New Benefits

Marin County supervisors yesterday denied by a 3-2 vote a bid by the Marin County Employees Assn. for increased fringe benefits.

Employees asked for the benefits after they were turned down on a request for an across-the board salary increase.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Byron W. Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen voted to take no action on the request. Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Thomas T. Storer dissented.

The association asked for the county to pay all medical benefit costs, grant 15-day vacations after three years and 20-day vacations after six years.

Discussion centered around the medical benefits proposal, which would cost the county an additional $20,558 a year.

Leydecker said the board approved an "elaborate and expensive retirement" and that this affects the county's ability to adjust salaries and deal in fringe benefits. Kettenhofen agreed.

Gnoss argued that the additional $20,558 a year in medical benefits should be provided. The county and employees now share in paying the costs.

Storer said: "I think this is a serious and important problem and I'd rather put it over until after equalization."

Leydecker noted that the employees association made its request "five minutes before the budget hearings concluded, and I can't believe they felt there was any chance of anything being done."

Chairman Behr said the board cut the budget to a minimum and he did not want "to open up the floodgates."

County Administrator Alan Bruce recommended that the board consider the fringe benefits program for 1966-67, and supervisors indicated they would.

Policeman Needs Aid From Tonto, Perhaps

SUNNYVALE (AP) — Officer Larry Watts was dispatched to quell a family quarrel this weekend and said he found himself looking down the business end of a bow and arrow.

Watts called for reinforcements and Herman L. Baskins was charged with "assault on a peace officer with a deadly weapon, to-wit a bow and arrow."

County Laws Enforcement Still Undecided

Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday to proceed with their plan to transfer enforcement of county ordinances and nuisance abatements from the district attorney's office to the county counsel's office.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who has been reluctant to relinquish the job of criminal prosecution, said he has not "tried to reverse" the supervisors' move.

Bales said he questioned the legality of transferring the criminal function and is seeking an opinion from the state attorney general.

"I think you're making a mountain out of a molehill," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker told Bales.

"If the law permits me to transfer for criminal prosecution, I will do so immediately," Bales replied. "Without authority, I can't lawfully transfer this duty."

Bales said that under the proposal, he would have the responsibility for criminal prosecution, but no control over it.

Supervisors suggested that this could be solved if Bales would deputize members of the county counsel's staff.

County Administrator Alan Bruce noted that the majority of cases involving county ordinances are civil cases, but the county counsel's office would need both civil and criminal powers to do an effective job.

Leydecker said, "There will be more enforcement, because there hasn't been any. I am in favor of enforcing county ordinances. We haven't had them enforced."

Bales said it would take "a deputy full time to do a proper job, both civil and criminal."

Three Bagley Bills Vetoed By Governor

Three bills by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, have been pocket-vetoed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

One is AB 1240, which would have continued the exemption of New York style (undrawn) dressed fowl from poultry plant sanitation and inspection requirements. The sale of New York style dressed fowl is scheduled to be prohibited after October, 1967.

Poultry interests in Sonoma County asked Bagley for this bill.

The two other bills pocket-vetoed are AB 1996 and AB 2415. AB 1996 provided that a member of the State Employees' Retirement System who is covered by Social Security and who retired for industrial disability would not receive less than if he had retired for nonindustrial disability.

AB 2415 authorized local hospital districts to borrow against patient revenues and clarified provisions on the fixing of rates for hospital care.

Landscape Consultant Asked In Mill Valley

Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners last night recommended the city council hire a landscape architectural company to provide overall planning and landscaping for Project 17 development, including improvements surrounding the community and youth center.

The commission reviewed phase one improvement plans for Old Mill Park and recommended certain "refinements," to be sent out to bid as alternates, reported Chairman Dean Meyer.

Wolfe Grade Problem Finally Sees Solution

Marin County supervisors last night awarded a $117,619.12 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Wolfe Grade to Laurel Grove Avenue. In the process, they laid to rest a controversy which had plagued both the county and the Kentfield School District for more than a year.

Bids were opened at 8 p.m., but supervisors went on to other business and postponed awarding the contract until Asst. Public Works Director Arthur C. Knudsen arrived from a meeting of the school district board. There, district trustees signed an agreement to trade district property on the Wolfe Grade school site for other nearby property.

When Knutsen returned, he asked supervisors to sign the same agreement while they were awarding the contract. They did so. Proposed of the land-swap is to permit future extension of Wolfe Grade, yet give the district space for future additions to the school.

County plans to extend Wolfe Grade caused a furor last year when trustees believed the plans would prevent their building a new section of the school. After negotiation, the county moved its proposed right-of-way and the district has since built the addition.

Ghilotti Brothers submitted the lowest of four bids. Others were submitted by Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, E. A. Forde Co. of San Anselmo and O. C. Jones Co. of Berkeley. Higest bid was $129,415.35.

Formation Commission Due Sanitary Annex Proposals

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission will hold an adjourned session on two sanitary district annexations at 8 p.m. today at Room 413, Civic Center.

Commissioners will consider annexation of St. Vincent's School property and adjacent property totaling about 440 acres to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

The second item is annexation of 1.2 acres between Mission and Sea View avenues to the San Rafael Sanitation District.

Both were scheduled for last Thursday, but were postponed because of a lack of a quorum om commissioners.

New Kiwanis Club Slated For Charter

The Kiwanis Club of Southern Marin will receive its charter at a dinner meeting Saturday evening at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

The new club, sponsored by the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, is made up of business and professional men in Southern Marin. But the commuting character of Marin's businessmen is well illustrated by its initial slate of officers, all of whom live in the Ross Valley or San Rafael.

Perry W. Smith of San Anselmo, a vice president of Tiburon National Bank, heads the charter officers as president.

Howard V. Dawson of Greenbrae, of Dawson Associates, Realtors in Mill Valley, has been chosen vice president; Rev. Clyde E. Beasley of San Rafael, comptroller of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, as secretary, and Ralph B. Mannela of San Anselmo, assistant manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Tiburon, as treasurer.

Anthony E. Sarganis, owner of the Sarganis Brothers Shell Service Center at 755 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, told police yesterday that someone stole $150.15 from a cash box in his office sometime between midnight and 7 a.m.

Sarganis said he suspected one of his employees because he would have had access to the box, because not all the money had been taken from the box and the box had been carefully placed back in its original spot.

Hallinan Presses Court Campaign Against Heaven, Hell, Purgatory

As he has at intervals since 1961, attorney Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere yesterday used a San Francisco courtroom to challenge "the nonsense of Heaven, Hell and Purgatory" and the views in general of the Roman Catholic Church.

Hallinan has accused the church of fraudulently inducing the late David F. Supple of San Francisco, who died in 1960 at age 81, to leave $175,000 of his estate to about 35 Catholic organizations. The Belvedere attorney contends the church frightened Supple into "buying his way into Heaven."

He originally filed suit for Supple's grand-nephew, the late John C. Smith of Corte Madera. Before Smith died last year, part of his alleged interest in the estate was bought by Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, one of the lawyer's six sons. The father has continued the case on his son's behalf.

Yesterday, Judge Joseph S. Huberty of Calaveras county, a non-Catholic sitting temporarily on the San Francisco Superior Court bench, heard from Hallinan and from eight lawyers representing the church.

The church lawyers had filed demurrers, asking that the case be dismissed on grounds it attempts to put theology under the jursidiction of a secular court.

Hallinan again took the occasion to denounce the dogma of the church to which he once belonged.

He wagged his finger at the battery of church lawyers and said, "I'd like to see any educated man, from a priest to a bishop, say he believes in the nonsense of Heaven, Hell or Purgatory.

"I do not think they think these things are true. They know it is illusion and fantasy."

In 1963, another judge denied Hallinan's demand that San Francisco Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken answer 38 questions about church doctrine. The attorney hoped to force the archbishop to point out the precise geographical location of Heaven, Hell and Purgatory on a map of the universe.

Yesterday, Hallinan gave a 40-minute speech in which likened priests to "witch doctors and shamans" and said the concept of Heaven and Hell were "invented by the Catholic Church itself long after the death of Christ."

"The Catholic Church invented Hell," he said "but it got so scared of what it had done, it invented Purgatory as a middle ground."

Wrong Man Arrested On Alimony Writ

A 34-year-old man, arrested by Los Angeles County officers on a warrant of attachment for contempt issued last May 17 by a Marin Superior Court judge, yesterday afternoon was ordered released here by the magistrate as the wrong person.

Ronald Norman Fidler of El Monte, Los Angeles County, was arrested on the warrant for a "Ron Fidler" charged with being in arrears in support payments for his wife, Mary Edwina Fidler, now of Michigan, and six children.

Marin County sheriff's officers returned him on the warrant. Brought before Judge Harold J. Haley for contempt proceedings, the man protested wrong identity. Attorney for Mrs. Fidler, Alvin Zeigler of Oakland, recalled that W. O. Weissich, San Rafael lawyer, had been involved in the original divorce action, and Weissich was called.

He testified under oath that Ronald Norman Fidler was not the Fidler involved. Judge Haley ordered the man released immediately.

Zeigler said location of the real defendant, who allegedly owed $3,146 in back payments when the May 17 contempt order was issued, is not known.

Pop Machine Raided

Thieves with a screw driver broke into a soft drink machine at the Doug Dicker used car lot at Francisco and Bellam Boulevards last night and stole an undetermined amount of money, San Rafael police said today. The theft was discovered by an officer on patrol.

FBI Flyers Out On Tam Murder

A Federal Bureau of Identification "flyer" on Virgilio Lobo Restauro, 25, wanted in the April 16 murder and dumping of the body of a 16-year-old girl in Marin County, was circulated throughout the United States yesterday.

The card, based on an April 22 federal warrant charging unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for murder, terms the San Francisco dishwasher as probably armed and extremely dangerous.

Restauro is charged in Marin County with the stabbing and bludgeoning death of Nonita Vicera of Daly City. Her body was found April 19 in Mount Tamalpais State Park.

Unsteady Racoon Possibly Rabid

Thomas W. King of 23 Rollingwood Drive, San Rafael, found a racoon under his house yesterday. He forced it into the open, observed it was moving slowly and unsteadily, and called San Rafael police, saying he thought he had a rabid skunk in his back yard.

A San Rafael policeman shot the animal and turned it over to the Marin County Health Department.

EUGENE BURDICK
Dies playing tennis

Author Burdick Is Dead At 47

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Engene Burdick, 47, who co-authored acid attacks on American foreign policy and the nuclear arms race in "The Ugly American" and "Fail Safe," collapsed and died yesterday on a tennis court at a swank resort.

Burdick complained of feeling ill after playing about a half-hour of tennis with Mrs. Hugh Wood of the Kona Kai Club, where he was vacationing. Mrs. Wood, wife of a vice president of Pacific Southwest Airlines, tried to revive him with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. A lifeguard and police ambulance attendants also tried. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctor's Hospital.

An autopsy was scheduled today.

Burdick was hospitalized in Oakland for two weeks after he had a heart attack June 18, 1959, at his home in Berkeley, where he was an associate professor of political theory at the University of California.

A graduate of Stanford University and Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, Burdick amassed a fortune through his writings. "Fail Safe," for example, earned $500,000 in movie rights alone.

"The Ugly American," written in 1958 with William Lederer, focused the attention of the American public to U.S. relations in Southeast Asia. It also drew this comment in 1960 from President Dwight D. Eisenhower:

"I tell you flatly there was one book that did great disservice to the honest public servants representing the United States of America. The book had many exaggerations and distortions. As far as I am concerned, it was sickening."

"Fail Safe," penned in 1962 with Harvey Wheeler, was based on the chilling premise that through a mechanical failure, a fleet of American nuclear bombers heads toward Moscow and cannot be recalled.

He also wrote "The Ninth Wave," "American Voting Behavior," "Blue of Capricorn," "The 480" and "Nina's Book," published earlier this year.

In his later years, Burdick served as a U.S. State Department consultant on foreign policy, was president of the Thomas A. Dooley Foundation and a board member of Project Hope.

A Democrat, Burdick also served last fall as Alameda County chairman of Pierre Salinger's unsuccessful Senatorial campaign.

Born in Sheldon, Iowa, Jan. 1, 1918, Burdick majored in psychology at Stanford and earned his Ph.D at Oxford.

A lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy from 1942 - 46, Burdick won the Navy - Marine Corps Cross. When the Korean conflict erupted in 1950, Burdick joined the staff of the Naval War College and served two years.

Burdick is survived by his widow, Carol, and three children.

Clark Kerr Praises Burdick

BERKELEY (UPI)— University of California President Clark Kerr last night eulogized writer Eugene Burdick as "one of the truly blithe spirits of the university."

Burdick collapsed and died yesterday in San Diego while playing tennis. He had been a close friend and adviser to Kerr for the past 15 years.

"He was joyously curious, friendly, creative and helpful . . . a most interesting character in a day when characters are rare in academic life," Kerr said.

"Many of his students have told me he was the greatest teacher they ever had," Kerr said. "As a young faculty member he was my first assistant when I became chancellor of the Berkeley Campus."

New Novato Park Now Open Daily

The Lions Club Park at the base of Stafford Dam is now open for family use each day, Edward Adams, Novato parks and recreation director, announced today.

The park will be used on a first-come, first-served basis except for groups wishing to reserve the barbecue facilities, he said.

The Novato Lions Club developed the park on land owned by the North Marin County Water District and turned it over to the City of Novato this year for public use. The city now has caretakers for the park, Adams said.

Chickens' Feathers Heavy On City Head

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Chicken feathers could cost the City of Mobile about $40,000.

City officials said indigestible feathers are being dumped into sewer lines by a poultry company, putting the sewer plant's four digestors in danger of clogging up. Should the feathers clog the plant's digestors, the cost for cleaning them out would be about $10,000 each, an official estimated.

Camping is enjoying a boom. Today there are more than 10,000 public campgrounds, three times more than 10 years ago.

Sausalito Tries Larger Pre-School Program

Sausalito School District trustees agreed last night to attempt to expand the proposed pre-school program to make all pupils in the district eligible.

At present, reported David E. Freedheim, board president, 136 pupils are eligible, 30 per cent of whom can come from families where parents make above $4,000 per year income.

The board agreed with Walter Bremond, director of community relations services for the county, to begin selecting a director for the pre-school program and consider getting a consultant to appraise it.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis reported that 20 persons have applied for the position of superintendent, left vacant with resignation of Marcus F. Davis. Screening process has begun by a committee of Richard A. Foster, superintendent of San Ramon Unified School District; Dr. Aubrey Haan, head of the school of education at San Francisco State College, and Wilson Riles, executive secretary of the state department of education's commission on equal opportunities in education.

Trustees agreed the school year will commence Sept. 13. They will meet Aug. 4 to adopt the fiscal 1966 budget and Aug. 9 at Richardson Bay School to consider a plan presented by Hollis for desegregation of Sausalito schools.

Alumni Give More

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale University says alumni contributed a record $3,301,943 during the school's 1964-65 fund drive. The money was given by 35,500 alumni, which would make the average contribution just over $93.

Pirate Raiders Due In Novato

Buccaneers will invade school playgrounds in Novato next week as the Novato Parks and Recreation Department holds Pirate Week.

There will be such things as treasure hunting, drawing treasure maps, shipbuilding and pirate games.

The week will be climaxed on Aug. 5, when the pirates will travel to hunt treasure on Point Reyes. Pirates must have their parents' permission before they can venture on this excursion, said Edward Adams, Parks and recreation director.

Sailor's Car Theft Sentence Due Aug. 16

Sentencing of Merton Wesley Spaulding, 20, on his guilty plea of car theft was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Aug. 16.

Spaulding, who police said was absent without leave from the Navy at Treasure Island, and a companion, Daniel J. Ryan, 18, of 2379 Dominic Drive, Novato, allegedly took a car from Sydney J. Smith, 794 Storybook Court, Novato, on June 1. Ryan still faces trial.

Seventy-six inches of snow was recorded in 24 hours at Silver Lake, Colo., April 14-15, 1921.

Terra Linda Meeting Set On Rec Center Regulations

Highly concerned with a rash of teen-age vandalism, Terra Linda has tooled up for an all-out effort to make its quarter-million dollar recreation center safe for all to use.

The community center, which has been kept closed after dark since a girl lifeguard was knocked unconscious by a burglar in the center office on July 18, is now being protected by guards hired from Associate Security Agency of San Rafael. However, it will continue to close at dark.

While the Terra Linda Park and Recreation District commission met jointly last night with the Terra Linda Community Services District Board, the hired guard patrolled the area with a hefty night stick swinging from one hip and a loaded .38 special hanging on the other.

The 10-men meeting decided that new locks should be installed on all the doors of the center and that much closer control of keys be kept. A burglar alarm system is being researched.

A meeting is planned for Aug. 11 for all teen-agers and their parents in the Terra Linda area. Restrictions on use of the community facilities will be discussed then.

"We don't want to establish a police state here which would drive these kids somewhere else," said Norman Gurin of the park and recreation district board. "We want to find the activities which these kids want, but they must abide by the necessary rules which we make."

Melvin Warrenback, president of the community services district board, claimed Terra Linda has no greater problem with teen-agers than most communities. "But we're more aware of our problems and more ready to meet and get rid of them," he said.

A group of teen-agers apprehended while fixing a flat tire caused by racing around the area, were turned over to the sheriff's office just after the meeting adjourned.

"The ironic thing is that these are the children of the people who helped to build this community," said Warenback.

Stuck Record Leads To Finding A Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Kuo figured that after listening to his neighbor playing the same record over and over for two days and nights he had suffered enough.

Kuo complained to the manager last night. The neighbor, Hugh Brown, 38, was found dead, a bullet wound in his head and a pistol in his hand. The record was still playing: "Prelude to Love and Death."

What Is A Noise Causes Headache

The Tiburon City Council last night had trouble defining what kind of noise it doesn't like.

Councilmen, acting on complaints of some business men and residential neighbors of the commercial area of the city, had asked that an anti-loud music ordinance be drawn up.

The ordinance proposed last night would make it unlawful for anyone to "make, continue or cause to be made any loud, unnecessary or unusual noise, or any noise which either annoys, disturbs, injures or endangers the comfort, repose, health, peace or safety of others."

Specifically included were radios, musical instruments, phonographs, amplifiers, and loud speakers which are played so they can be heard 50 feet from the building in which they are located.

Conviction of a violation of the ordinance would mean a fine up to $500 and a jail sentence of up to six months.

Councilmen feared the ordinance would open the way for complaints about the fire department siren, Corinthian Yacht Club public address system, yelling at Little League games and barking dogs.

Eric Hodgman, owner of the Prince Charlie Inn on Tiburon Boulevard, from which the sound of jazz has filtered to residential areas on weekends, defended his inn against a comment from Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge about "what seemed to be rowdyism."

"I've never had a fight, a disturbance or a brawl at my bar," Hodgman said.

Councilmen sent back the draft ordinance asking that it be more explicit, making illegal too-loud "electronic noises" outside business buildings, and perhaps allowing a exceptions, such as Christmas music.

Tiburon Ready For City-Wide Garbage Pact

A garbage contract with Mill Valley Refuse Service Inc. which will cover the entire city of Tiburon was approved last night by the city council.

The next step is for the Tiburon sanitary district to turn over to the city its franchise, which covers part of Tiburon for garbage collection by the same company.

The contract approved last night by councilmen will run for 15 years with a 10-year option to renew.

Charges will be $2 for once-a-week pick up from one can in level areas: $2.50 in hilly areas; $3.75 for all areas for once a week pick up from two cans.

Written into the contract is a promise that the rates will hold constant for four years. The city will get five per cent of the gross of the company's operation in the city, a figure estimated at $3,268.

County's Airport Under Heavy Fire

By FRANK FARRARA

The Marin County Airport north of Novato came under heavy fire yesterday as county supervisors authorized a two-week study of airport facilities in Marin.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen referred to the county airport as "second rate" and suggested that minimum development there "would be more feasible."

In a letter to the board, Dr. Warren M. Russell of 1365 Idylberry Drive, Marinwood, blasted the county airport "as probably one of the worst community airports in California."

Dr. Russell said the runway is poorly paved and improperly drained, the tie-down facilities inadequate, and the hangar "grossly inadequate."

Ben Ostlind, chairman of the airport committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said "in all probability" development of the county airport and creation of an air terminal and industrial park northeast of Hamilton Air Force Base will be required.

The larger proposed development in conjunction with HAFB "is an absolute necessity for continuous growth of the county, in a way not connected with aviation as such," Ostlind said.

He urged supervisors to avoid an "either-or" approach to the two projects.

The board unanimously voted to have a study made by James G. Percy, director of aeronautics for Ventura County, at a cost of $850 covering Percy's salary, travel and living expenses.

Supervisors also agreed that an airport commission should be formed, and directed County Administrator Alan Bruce to study possible formation of a commission as part of his study on committee.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board is not taking "an either-or approach" or "a both approach" to the airport development problem. Supervisors are just trying to get information on economic feasibility, he said.

Ostlind suggested that Percy's study be confined to the county airport, and that a study of the HAFB proposal be undertaken by a consulting firm.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said "I'd hate to have Percy come up and then put blinders on him."

Percy is scheduled to make his study Aug. 16-27.

Train Cars Derail

PINECLIFFE, Colo. (AP) — All 305 passengers escaped injury but the engineer and fireman were shaken up Sunday night when five diesel locomotive units, two coaches and a baggage car of the eastbound California Zephyr derailed.

Train Service End Is Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Southern Pacific said today it is seeking Interstate Commerce Commission authority to drop the Shasta Daylight summertime train between Portland, Ore. and the San Francisco Bay area on Sept. 1.

It said passenger volume has declined sharply, averaging 93 per trip compared with 147 a year ago.

The train has operated only from early June through Labor Day.

Tiburon Council Votes 4-1 For 'Awfully Tight' Budget

The Tiburon City Council last night approved a $161,173 budget to run the city for the 1966 fiscal year at a tax rate estimated at just under 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Councilmen approved a motion which would allow adding at least $1,000 to the "contingency fund" of the budget if final assessed valuation figures from the county and higher than expected. But the council majority promised to keep the tax rate to very near the 20-cent maximum promised in campaign pledges by some councilmen when they ran in the incorporation election last year.

The vote on the budget was 4-1, with Councilman Fred C. Hannahs opposed.

"We'd better pray for a nice dry winter," said Hannahs, saying the contingency and road work categories of the budget were too low.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

1. Passed an ordinance which will require underground placement of utilities in the business district within 10 years.
2. Approved a contract with Marin County to provide sheriffs' deputy protection, road maintenance and public works engineering services.
3. Heard from City Treasurer Samuel M. Shapero that Tiburon Tidelands Co. had offered the stucco building on the landside of Paradise Drive for a city hall and that Belvedere Land Co. proposed letting the city have the Belevedere-Tiburon post office building, which it leases to the post office, and construct another post office building nearby. No cost figures to the city were mentioned; councilmen held off full discussion until the Aug. 9 meeting.
4. Adjourned at 1:24 a.m.

Mill Valley Eyes License Hike

Fees from Mill Valley businessmen's licenses made about 30 per cent increase after the last business license hike in 1963, but returns from apartment house owners and out-of-city merchants operating in Mill Valley declined.

This information was made known yesterday to a city council subcommittee meeting at Sabella's Restaurant, according to councilman William M. Secor, subcommittee chairman.

Secor said he will discuss the subject further with City Mgr. Bert Balmer and report to the city council Aug. 2. The council is considering increasing business license fees by $12 a year to all businesses.

Vandals Bedaub 7 Parked Autos

Vandals armed with tubes of black and blue paint decorated seven cars in front of apartments at 1030, 1040 and 1060 Los Gamos Road, San Rafael, late Sunday night.

San Rafael police said greetings such as "hello" and "Sam was here" were painted on cars parked along the street. An empty tube which had contained blue paint was found in front of 1028 Los Gamos Road by John Mays, superintendent of the apartment unit at 1030.

Mays said five of his tenants' cars were painted. Two residents at the other addresses reported similar vandalism.

County Sets Additional Rabies Clinic

The rabies vaccination clinic today from 6 to 8 p.m. at Marion School in Novato will not be the final clinic of the year by the Marin County Health Department, as had been originally planned.

Today's sixth clinic will be followed by a final clinic at the Point Reyes Station firehouse, on Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m., the health department announced today.

The City of Novato will have a clerk at today's clinic who will issue dog licenses to those who wish to buy them at that time. Deadline for licensing dogs is Aug. 31.

All dogs must have been vaccinated since Jan. 1, 1964, before they may be licensed. Vaccination fee at the clinics are $2 per dog.

Thus far the county health department clinics have vaccinated 1,989 dogs.

Reed Pay Raises To Be Discussed

Pay raises for all personnel of Reed School District will be considered by trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School.

Included in the proposals are incentive pay hikes for leaders of teaching teams, $100 yearly sums for those having master's or doctor's degrees, further pay hikes for those meeting other degree and district tenure qualifications.

The board will consider making money available for special research projects by teachers, an across-the-board percentage increase for all teachers and non-teaching personnel, and raises for principals.

It includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers and dual padded sun visors.
It's the price of the real thing; not a stripped-down economy model.
What else do you have to pay?
The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry, dealer delivery charge, and local sales tax.
And that's it.
Maybe you should come by and talk to us.

Seers Optimistic Of Steel Contract

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Government officials are turning optimistic these days over prospects of a peaceful and reasonable wage settlement in steel.

They have been optimistic in the past—and pessimistic, too. Their expectations have risen and fallen with the regularity of a roller coaster. But, this time, the labor experts in Washington detect some differences.

For one thing, there's the news blackout over the negotiations. Neither side seems to be playing to public opinion. Both labor and management are concentrating on bargaining hard and in good faith.

For another thing, officials believe that both sides are bargaining realistically. They are facing unpleasant facts.

The companies are thought to be realilzing that they simply will not be able to make large price increases stick. Any increases imposed will hit just when demand is weak because users will be living off inventories built up in fear of a strike. At the same time, foreign competition, which is already the strongest ever, will be growing keener.

On its side, the union will have to accept the fact that the companies cannot pay proportionately the same wage increases won in other lines.

Profits have been good during the strike-hedge build-up. But they won't remain so high, once steel users start to run down their stockpiles. And some profits must be used to keep equipment modern.

The escalation of the Viet Nam war adds a new element to the bargaining climate. "How would it look," an expert asks, "if the union called a strike over, say, 4 or 5 cents an hour when American boys are dying in Viet Nam?"

The White House has set "guidelines" on new wage negotiations. It tends to consider a contract exceeding 3.2 per cent as inflationary. And this administration is not about to wreck this keystone to its wage-price policy.

Besies, any increase in steel prices would be quickly transmitted to manufactured items which would make U.S. goods less competitive in foreign markets. This, in turn, would be a setback for the strenuous efforts to bring our international payments into balance.

The feeling in Washington is that the steel workers cannot hope to match the 4.1 per cent gains won by their co-unionists in aluminum, which is a rich and fast-growing industry. That is more than the companies can afford to pay.

Some face-saving formula can perhaps be worked out. One such formula might rest on the difference in wage levels between steel and aluminum. Steel workers have always earned substantially more than aluminum workers.

One solution, then, might be to give the steel workers the same 16½ cents an hour increase accorded to the aluminum workers. That, however, would come to only 3½ per cent of present costs in steel.

That would bend the President's guidelines only slightly. It would show that the new union leadership can achieve benefits.

And the amount wouldn't be much more than the 2.6 per cent the companies have already agreed to as the interim settlement for the period between the original strike deadline of last May 1 and the new deadline of Sept. 1.

Trading Is Moderate As Market Closes

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly lower today after backing away from a slight gain. Trading was moderate.

At Fiesta Candle Shop, Mrs. Dorris Kinzie of San Rafael is the proprietor. She has done some custom candle work in the past and this will be a feature of her shop, along with candles of all types and from all over the world, candle holders, candelabra and other accessories. She may be assisted occasionally in the store by husband Roy when he is not engaged in his own line—skin diving and underwater salvage.

Hours aren't fully established but will follow the general daily pattern of the Village as it develops, with perhaps one evening opening a week—and maybe on Sundays.

Miss Covington Molica

THE VILLAGE SHOE DEN, next door to Hickory Farms, is a men's and boys' shoe business operated by Sardis Nahigian, formerly of the San Joaquin Valley and now living on Reed Boulevard in Strawberry. He has been in the shoe business since 1934 and his last store was in Dos Palos.

Nahigian carries Florsheim, Winthrop and Walkmor lines of footwear and U. S. Keds. He has outlined an open - for - business schedule from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., with perhaps two evening openings a week—probably on Tuesdays and Fridays.

EBERHART'S RENT- A- CAR SERVICE, that began with one car for hire in Mill Valley in 1959 and expanded to include other offices in San Rafael, Novato and Santa Rosa, has merged with Avis Rent-A-Car, and the latter has already taken over the operation. Eberharts's Auto Sales and repair service will not be affected in the change.

WILLIAM EBERHART notes that Avis has about 1,100 rental cars in the Bay Area alone—all or most of them 1965 models, and service will be much improved. San Rafael station will be at Rossi and Hook Signal Service, Third and Irwin streets.

A $500 U. S. SAVINGS BOND and other awards have gone to CAROL COVINGTON, who works for Macy's in San Rafael and is second-prize winner in a nationwide contest sponsored by Gaddi of California. Contestants were required to submit plans for a complete publicity campaign to promote Gaddi, a Southern California manufacturer of junior sportswear.

Carol first had to compete with entries from all the local division Macy stores before being entered in the national competition. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Blake, summer residents of Ross, and plans to enter the University of the Pacific this fall, majoring in sales promotion and advertising.

JAMES C. MOLICA of San Anselmo has been appointed account supervisor in the San Francisco office of Young and Rubicam, Inc., and assigned to the consumer products division of Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. He succeeds Fred Wellmerling who is resigning to take a position in Southern California. Molica has been in the advertising business 15 years, six of them with Young and Rubicam.

SAN GERONIMO NATIONAL COURSE

Sept. 15 Opener For New Links

By RALPH CHATOIAN

A group of men with big ideas and a lot of moxie is going to take over ownership of the San Geronimo golf course and it probably will be open for business in less than two months.

Heading the corporation which is expected to close out the deal this week with the Lagunitas Development Co. is William W. Saunders, an attorney from Honolulu who already is principal owner of three other courses—the Sonoma Golf and Country Club and the Colwood and Meriwether courses in Portland, Ore.

Saunders is heading a group that will form National Golf Courses Inc. which will do the managing for many courses throughout the nation, although it will not be the owner of all of them. All courses owned by the group will have "National" tacked on the end of the name, starting with San Geronimo National and the other three.

"I estimate we'll start managing quite a few courses, perhaps five new ones per year," said Saunders.

To purchase the golf course from Lagunitas Development Co., of which Stephen McKee is the principal owner, a corporation known as San Geronimo Golf Course Inc. is being formed by Saunders. Other directors in that group will be Bob Rosburg, pro at the Meriwether course; Robert J. Cardinal ex-San Francisco golf champ; Dr. Cecil A. Saunders, William's father; J. Stewart Harrison, San Francisco attorney; Robert A. Leedy, Portland attorney, and Alexander C. Waterhouse of Honolulu, William Saunders' associate.

Saunders plans to have the 18-hole course at San Geronimo ready for play "about Sept. 15." Under his plans, it will be a semi-private club, open to membership, but also open for public play.

Prior to Saunders' stepping into the picture, the course was to be private, with membership running at $2,500 per person. But he plans to reduce this considerably.

"Membership will run in the neighborhood of $200," said Saunders, "and monthly dues will be probably $12, rather than $35 as planned in the old setup." This fee will include use of a swimming pool, tennis courts, locker room facilities, charging privileges, preferred starting times, handicap registration and other things associated with most private clubs.

But non-members can also use the course, with green fees expected to be $4 on weekdays and $6 on weekends. It will be the same cost for members and non-members.

"This will not be the club and course for the avid golfer," said Saunders. He explained that fully private clubs would be better for persons who play "a lot of golf." This type arrangement (semi-private) is for persons who play golf 50 times or less per year, said Saunders.

Expectations are for about 40 per cent club member play and 60 per cent open play. Getting first crack at membership are the 140 who had signed up to join the golf club when it was going to be fully private. It isn't going to be easy business to join the club, as 1,000 or so persons have already indicated interest in joining, said Saunders.

Although Sept. 15 is the proposed opening date for the course, construction work on the clubhouse probably will not get

Dubious Reaction To Boxing 'Spectacular'

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden has some interesting plans about a heavyweight doubleheader, including a Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson bout, only Clay hasn't agreed to it and the World Boxing Assn. is pretty dubious.

"If they don't get Clay, it won't be much of anything," frankly admitted Ernie Terrell in Chicago. Terrell owns the WBA version of the world heavyweight title and, according to the Madison Square Garden plans, would fight Canadian George Chuvalo as a companion bout to the Clay-Patterson affair.

The winners, according to Garden managing director Harry Markson, then would be matched for the undisputed world championship. Markson said yesterday that Patterson, Terrell and Chuvalo have agreed in principle to the proposed twin bill in the Garden in late October.

But Merv McKenzie of Toronto, president of the WBA, had some second thoughts.

"I'm pretty certain the WBA would be against the card," he said in Toronto.

"Even if it were accepted by the managers of Chuvalo and Terrell, it would need WBA sanction and we would have to have an executive committee vote on it. I'm dubious that it would pass.

"We must remember that Clay is still suspended by the WBA and is not recognized as the champion. Therefore, the WBA would be reluctant to have Clay fight on the same card as Terrell, the recognized champ."

Clay was stripped of WBA recognition as champion when he signed for the return bout with Sonny Liston, and Terrell won the vacant title. Clay's return with Liston ended in the controversial one-punch knockout in Lewiston, Maine.

Markson said he had been working on the card for about a

'Peacock Billy' Vaults To 4th On Loot List

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI)—Billy Casper's sudden-death victory in last week's Insurance City Open moved him into fourth place on the PGA money winning list and placed him second only to Jack Nicklaus in combined earnings.

Casper, of Peacock Gap country club in San Rafael, Calif., beat Johnny Pott on the first playoff hole to capture the $20,000 first prize and increase his official winnings to $53,808 and his unofficial total to $78,764. Nicklaus, who remained on top of the official standings with $69,700, has pocketed $80,488 in combined prizes, it was announced Monday. Nicklaus, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer missed the ICO to compete in the special big three tourney in Maryland.

5 Marin Li'l League Star Games Tonight

The second schedule change in the Marin County Little League District All-Star Tournament now has five games being played tonight and San Anselmo has dropped out, Little League representative Bob Lollick has announced.

Area 1 games include Marinwood vs. Hamilton-Loma Verde at Hamilton Air Force Base diamond; San Rafael American at Novato, and San Geronimo Valley at Gallinas Valley. Area 2 games are Twin Cities vs. Tiburon at Larkspur, and Sausalito at Strawberry. All five games start at 6 o'clock.

Drawing first round byes are San Rafael National and both Mill Valley teams, the American and National League all-stars.

Quarter-final games will be played tomorrow, semi-final contests Friday, and the final games on Saturday. Previous schedule change had Marinwood playing San Anselmo last night, but Lollick said San Anselmo's team withdrew from the tourney.

Marin Pros Boccabella, Miller Continue Slump

It wasn't a very productive week for Marin County ball players in the pro circuit.

John Boccabella of San Anselmo had only five hits, all singles, in 26 at bats as his average dropped 3 points to .230 for Fort Worth of the Class AA Texas League. In 357 at bats this season, he has 82 hits.

Steve Miller, also of San Anselmo, pitched six innings of one game and got a loss for it as his win-loss record slipped to 3-7 and his earned run average to 3.00. In 87 innings of pitching this year, he has 71 strikeouts and has walked 75 batters. He has been pitching all season with Cocoa of the Florida State Rookie League.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley, right-hander with Durham, N. C. of the Carolina League, pitched five innings in relief for three games and didn't get charged with any wins or losses. Therefore his record remained unblemished at four wins and no losses. His ERA is 3.21.

Mill Valley Wins In Tennis Action

Mill Valley blanked the peninsula Club 9-0 Friday in Junior Wightman Cup tennis action on the winner's court. In other matches of the day, Berkeley edged the Tiburon Peninsula Club 5-4 and Sacramento walloped Belvedere 9-0.

Mill Valley winners were Ann Huber, Peggy Gett, Nancy Reed, Debbie Aureguy, Nancy Sullivan and Jane Huber in singles, and Huber-Jannis Klyce,, Gett-Reed, and Cathy Scott-Jackie Kroner in doubles.

Tiburon winners were Pat Reed, Julie Smetana and Mary Myers in singles and the team of Smetana-Myers in the doubles.

Giants Send Spahn Vs. Cards Tonight

Vet Gets Second S.F. Start

"We get an 18-year-old boy in Houston and now a 44-year-old man in San Francisco."

Thus mused manager Red Schoendienst yesterday after the St. Louis Cardinals had knocked off the San Francisco Giants, 7-4, in a sloppy game that saw six unearned runs go into the books.

Schoendienst was referring to the fact that Warren Spahn, the 44-year-old southpaw, will be making his second start for the Giants since they signed him as a free agent on July 19. And only five nights ago, 18-year Larry Dierker went the distance in pitching the Astros to a 3-2 win over the Cards.

SEEKS NO. 361

Spahn, whose 4-12 record for the year and eighth straight loss was registered with the New York Mets who placed him on waivers, remains in quest of the 361st victory of his career. He already is the biggest winner in history among major league southpaws.

One more victory breaks a tie between him and Kid Nichols for sixth spot among all time winners. Last Thursday Spahn was knocked out of the box in the third inning of his first San Francisco start against Cincinnati.

Juan Marichal, losing to the Cardinals for the third time this season, only went the first three innings then was removed for a pinch hitter.

After that, Gaylord Perry, Jack Sanford and Bill Henry were sent out to the mound but the relief pitcher with the best stuff was Don Dennis of the Cards.

He took over for winner Bob Gibson (12-8) in the eighth inning with two on base, a run across and one out. After retiring Len Gabrielson on a sacrifice fly that cut the Cardinal lead to 6-4, Dennis made the injured Willie Mays fly out in a pinch-hitter's role.

THREE ERRORS

The Giants committed a total of three errors to one for the Cards and all San Francisco miscues resulted in tallies.

Jim Ray Hart, playing third base again after a one-day suspension for breaking training, set up the first two runs in the second inning by making a two base throwing error on Ken Boyer's grounder.

Bill White then slammed Marichal for a 400 foot homer to right field.

After the Giants had narrowed the score to 3-2 in the fourth, Lou Brock's smash skidded by Willie McCovey at first base for another error in the sixth. With men on second and third, Dick Groat next lined a double off the left center field screen to bring in both runners.

A sacrifice fly by Phil Gagliano and Jim Davenport's muff of Ted Savage's infield fly with the bases filled accounted for the other Card runs. Savage was immediately out under the infield fly rule but Curt Flood dashed in from third after the error.

Gibson was routed in the eighth by two singles and also hit a batter. Matty Alou had led off with a single, then was declared out for interference when he collided with second baseman Dal Maxvill who was fielding Willie McCovey's infield hit. A wild throw by third baseman Ken Boyer and Jay Alou's single got McCovey in. Gibson was taken out after he hit Tom Haller.

Jay Alou stole third while the Cards were changing hurlers but then Dennis retired Gabrielson on the sacrifice fly to start closing things out.

STENGEL'S OPERATION IS TERMED A SUCCESS

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel underwent surgery for a fractured left hip today and his doctor termed the 45-minute operation a success.

The manager of the New York Mets, who will be 75 this Friday, is expected to remain in Roosevelt Hospital for three weeks.

Dr. LaMotte, the Mets' team physician, predicted Casey will be able to walk within five days with the assistance of a cane.

Stengel's wife, Edna, came from their Glendale, Calif., home to be with her husband.

"Everything went well," said Harold Weissman, director of public relations for the Mets, after the operation.

When Mrs. Stengel was called at her hotel by Dr. LaMotte after the surgery, Weissman said her first reaction was: "Does he have all of his bones?"

Dr. LaMotte assured her that he did.

Stengel fractured the hip in a fall Sunday morning—on the eve of his 75th birthday celebration scheduled at Shea Stadium—following a party for New York Giants' and Brooklyn Dodgers' old-timers.

Spahn Can Have The Last Laugh On Bragan With Strong Showing

CONNOLLY

Of all the National League managers, one sticks out like a sore thumb. He is Bobby Bragan, pilot of the Milwaukee Braves, a throw-back of the old school of baseball who calls a spade a spade, speaks out on everything and everybody. He refuses to hide behind the phony protocol some managers throw up to evade controversy and keep face with the hero worshippers.

Bragan waxed very emphatic in his wordy clash with Warren Spahn but he never once said the veteran southpaw would not help the Giants.

"If he is used in spots, not too long, and not too often, Spahn will help the S.F. Club," Bragan declared. "The 44-year-old lefty has, naturally, lost a lot of his spark but it is going to take a lot of tricky stuff to wean the last ounce of triumph out of him."

Long before Bragan hit the big leagues we had dealings with him at Hollywood and found him most cooperative. He never ducked a direct question and he never hid behind a club-owner's apron. In these days when we have radio and TV reporters scurrying hither and thither in all the club houses in baseball, a manager has to have a good memory to remember what he says to 'em all. Bragan is that kind of guy. He tells everyone the same story and no matter how often he repeats it, he never gets away from the original theme.

IT IS slicing the baloney pretty thin when a manager rants and yells at one reporter and coddles the other. Bragan isn't that kind.

Spahn can have the last laugh on Bragan by doing just what he was hired to do — perform nobly in the bullpen. And Spahnie can have a big laugh on Bragan tonight if he comes through with a win in his start against the Cards.

IT WOULDN'T surprise anyone if the Los Angeles American League club becomes the "Angels of Disneyland." All signs point that way, even to the recent admission that Walter Disney himself has become quite a hefty stockholder in the Anaheim baseball entry.

The park, now under construction and expected to be ready for occupancy at the start of the 1966 season, really is impressive to see as traffic speeds by it en route to San Diego and points south of Los Angeles. The grandstand, just a shadow of steel now, looks for all the world like Candlestick Park in its infancy. It has become a tourist sight in the south.

And the stock query of visitors is "where is Anaheim?" Once you mention it is a neighbor of Disneyland, everybody knows just how to get there.

THE NAME of Leo Durocher pops into the sports pages pretty regularly in the Southland. He is prominently mentioned as the successor to Bill Rigney, if and when the Angel manager quits. He is mentioned prominently in connection with the N.Y. Mets. But the inside dope on the Casey Stengel job has Alvin Dark being a front runner. He is a close friend of the Mets' owner and would seem to have the best chance.

N. L. Race: Dodgers' Au-Go-Go Real Swingin' Thing

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Swift Maury Wills, leading performer in the Los Angeles Dodgers' Au Go Go, suddenly has found some swinging help.

Wills stole his 68th and 69th bases of the season last night as the National League-leading Dodgers stretched their margin to two games with a 5-4 victory over runner-up Cincinnati.

Parker, who patrols first base for the Dodgers when he isn't playing bridge, kicked in with a two-run homer as did Willie Davis, one of Wills' running mates in the Dodger attack that ordinarily features speed rather than strength.

The steals put Wills 28 games ahead of the pace he maintained in 1962 when he swiped 104 bases. He was on base three times with a single and two walks and raised his average to .301. He has hit safely in 19 consecutive games.

Maury singled in the first inning and came around on Davis' fifth home run of the season. Parker made it 4-0 in the second and then Wills' speed produced the final Dodger run.

Edwards caught Wills trying for number 70 in the seventh so Maury batted two for three against the Cincinnati catcher.

Elsewhere in the National League, young Wade Blasingame limited Houston to five singles as Milwaukee snapped a three-game losing string with a 6-0 victory against Houston. Bob Gibson won his 12th game as St. Louis defeated San Francisco 7-4 in the only other game played.

In the American League, front-running Minnesota stretched its lead to 4½ games with an 8-2 victory over second place Baltimore and Los Angeles belted Boston 6-2.

Wes skipped a trip to Honolulu for an international bridge tournament with his dad last winter, preferring to do his playing instead in the Arizona Instructional League.

The home run was his fourth and helped the Dodgers beat Jim Maloney, 11-4. Johnny Podres, 4-5, with relief help from Bob Miller and Ron Perranoski, was the winner.

Blasingame, a 21-year-old lefthander, won his 12th against seven setbacks and got all the help he needed from batterymate Joe Torre, who drove in four runs with three hits including his 19th homer.

Torre connected with two Braves on base in the first inning after Felipe Alou had opened the game with his 16th homer. The All-Star catcher then drove in another run with a triple in the fifth.

Dave Giusti, working in relief of Houston starter Bob Bruce, hurled 4 1-3 innings of hitless relief for the Astros.

Major League Attendance Is Record-Bound

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball is moving toward a record high in attendance for the second straight year spurred by a boom in Houston and renewed interest in Cleveland.

This was disclosed today in an Associated Press survey through games of Sunday, July 25. Over-all attendance at the 20 big league ball parks shows an increase of 582,179 — 4.4 per cent — over last season.

The combined total for the National and American Leagues is 13,767,476 compared to 13,185,297 in as many dates in 1964. The two circuits drew 21,280,341 altogether last year.

The National League, paced by Houston's astronomical gain of 910,714 in its new enclosed stadium, appears headed for its fourth straight record year. N.L. clubs have played before 8,175,916, a gain of 512,328 over last year. The American League is up 69,851.

The Houston team has lured 1,444,133 to the Astrodome compared to only 533,419 in as many 1964 dates in Colts' stadium. Houston's final 1964 attendance was only 725,773.

The Indians, who reportedly were considering shifting their franchise last summer, have virtually equalled last season's final attendance total. In 44 home dates this ear, they've attracted 648,936 persons, a gain of 172,951 over last year, and within easy range of the final '64 aggregate of 653,293.

The AP survey also reflected apathy in Milwaukee and Kansas City. The Braves, headed for Atlanta in 1966, have pulled only 262,029 fans through the County Stadium turnstiles compared to 577,095 in as many home dates last season.

Lester-Moyer Return Bout Tomorrow Night

Both undefeated middleweight Jimmy Lester and veteran Denny Moyer oozed confidence as they wound up training for tomorrow's 10-round match at San Francisco's Kezar Pavilion.

"There won't be any doubt about my beating him this time," Lester voiced. "I know Denny is a hard man to put away, but that's what I intend to do Wednesday. I've never felt in better condition and I'm really much sharper than when I decisioned him last April."

Moyer was equally optimistic. "When I beat Gabe Hernandez in my last fight a month ago he had a 16-0 record. That's the same mark Lester has. I consider it a good sign. He, too, will have a 16-1 record sometime late Wednesday night."

If their fight is anything like their original April go, fans are in for a thriller. The pair slugged it out from the opening bell with Lester finally walking off the victor in a match many thought should have been ruled a draw.

Moyer's pilot, Syd Flaherty, plans no switch in strategy. "I though Denny won the first fight," he commented. "He knows what he has to do to win and I'm confident he will."

Matchmaker Mario Spampinato has lined up two more 10-rounders to go along with the main event. They pit Silky Shelton against Dave Reed and Pete Gonzalez vs. Willie Ray. First bout is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

month and was sorry the story leaked out yesterday before all the details were worked out.

"It was my idea that something spectacular was needed after the last four heavyweight title fights," he said.

But Clay, generally recognized as the champion, is the key and has not agreed. He is on a world tour, currently in British Honduras, and not available for comment.

"The Louisville syndicate that handles him has not yet agreed to it," said Al Bolan, of Championship Sports. "Until they do, there's not much to talk about."

Markson said he had high hopes of reaching agreement with the Louisville group, probably for a large percentage of the gate and closed circuit television receipts. Patterson also would get a percentage while Terrell and Chuvalo would get a flat guarantee of $40,000 each.

"All I know is that it's in the talking stage," Terrell said. "You can say we worked out a working agreement. I agreed to the fight under certain conditions. If the conditions are put on paper, I'll sign it. But nothing will be solved unless they get Clay."

BACKFIELD POSTS

49er Vets Face A Stiff Battle

MORAGA (UPI)—Coach Jack Christiansen says that the battle for running back posts on the San Francisco 49ers is the toughest he has ever seen.

Seven veterans, including newly-acquired John David Crow, will battle a crop of rookies, headed by top draft choice Ken Willard, for five jobs.

Christiansen said Crow, acquired from the Cardinals in the Abe Woodson trade, had trouble with the count in Monday's drills.

The Cardinals start on a number count while the Forty Niners move on the first, second or third "go," as announced in the huddle. The coach said Crow would undoubtedly soon make the adjustment.

Christiansen also pointed out that seven veterans will have a pretty good fight with a group of rookies headed by another number one draft pick, George Donnelly, for six defensive backfield jobs.

Marin Stewardess Recalls Early Days

By LOIS SENS

"It is the duty of the stewardess to check the floor bolts on the wicker seats in the Ford trimotors to make sure they are securely fastened before every flight." So stated the first stewardess manual used by Mrs. Richard J. Fuite of Fairfax.

Inez Fuite, the former Miss Keller, was a member of the first airline stewardess class employed by Boeing Transport Co. now United Air Lines. She and her seven classmates were registered nurses, hired in 1930 with the idea of serving food and looking out for the passenger's welfare, especially on the 20-hour flights.

STEVE STIMPSON, first western traffic manager of the Boeing system, chose nurses for their practicality as opposed to the currently popular flapper type. He also thought that having young women as regular members of the crew would have a tremendous effect on the traveling public.

However, his was the difficult job of convincing the seasoned mail pilots who wore big fur coats, two-gun holsters and goggles that lady couriers would be of help on their planes.

"We had no schedules in those days," notes Inez, "the company had only a few planes so when one was available, they would call us the day or morning before the flight left from the Oakland Airport."

Interesting to note is the method of transportation used by the enterprising young lady. Inez lived in the Mission District and took a taxi to the Ferry Building where she caught a commuting motor boat to the Oakland Estuary, a 20-minute ride in a boat piled high with mail.

EARLY FLIGHTS left Oakland for Reno, a two-hour flight with a stop in Sacramento, then continued on to Elko, Nev., Salt Lake City, Utah, Rock Springs and Cheyenne, Wyo., a trip which might last from 12 to 21 hours depending on weather and the condition of the Boeing B40.

On one trip, the vertical stabilizer in the tail section broke as a result of the plane's bouncing over chuck holes in the runway and the pilot was forced to land on the beach near Salt Lake.

"We were the first to use radio equipment on our planes," she recalls. "Since the range was only 100 miles, airport contact was of short duration. I can remember one of our pilots, Tommy Thompson, who forgot the key was open and came in singing in great fashion. He was subsequently grounded for 90 days."

THE PLANES had a cruising altitude of 2000 feet and averaged 150 miles per hour. "We saw antelope when we flew over Wyoming, and over the Sierra, we flew at a level with the snow peaks and beacons."

"On one trip we ran low on gas and were forced to land in a wheat field near Cherokee, Wyo. As we slowly circled for a landing, we saw people, wagons and horses converging on the field. Most of them had never seen an airplane and asked to touch it, calling me the 'white angel from the sky.' The pilot had to hitch a ride into a nearby city for gasoline," Inez recalls.

"Other problems beset us during flight which were peculiar traits of the early planes. For instance, we had little ventilation except for a louvered panel through which fuel fumes could enter the cabin. There was one incidence of monoxide poisoning in the cabin on a trip to Reno."

WE HAD TO WARN passengers not to throw lighted cigar butts out of windows, particularly over populated areas," Inez laughs. "There was a danger, too, of mistaking the adjacent emergency exit for the lavatory door, since both were identical."

Other chores included keeping the Boeing 80A window sills dusted and setting the altimeters mounted in the cabins so that passengers might check how high they were flying. A railroad timetable was always carried in the stewardess' satchel and used in case weather forced the flight to be grounded.

Mrs. Fuite recalls that the airplanes weren't pressurized and that trash was dumped through an opening, "nothing breakable, and no dumping over cities. We sure were litterbugs in those days."

SUPPLIES ON the planes consisted mainly of aspirin, a thermos of coffee, pillows which the stewardess carried and motion sick cups.

"We carried the same meals for breakfast, dinner and supper, consisting of a sealed glass jar of fruit cocktail with brandy, fried chicken and coffee. We kept the chicken warm on steam trays."

The airline kept a suite of rooms then, as now, at the layover point. Flight pay consisted of $125 a month for 100 hours of flying plus an expense account which included two dollars for each meal.

Ellen Church, Boeing's first chief stewardess, trained the girls in less than a week and some carriers in those days turned out a stewardess in less than three hours.

REQUIREMENTS, except that of a registered nurse, varied according to the locale. In Chicago, the Boeing stewardesses selected were blonde and around five feet in height. In San Francisco, the girls chosen were taller—five feet, five and three-quarter inches—and had dark hair.

Uniforms were dashing in forest green twill with rakish pulldown hats designed to withstand propeller breezes. Full length capes covered double-breasted suits with brass but-

Death Of Actress Saddens Road Company Beautician

By MOLLY MARIN

The death of actress Constance Bennett came as a great shock to David Carey, Tiburon hairdresser. Carey had toured with the star for two years when she was playing "Auntie Mame" with a road show company in 1958-59. He was Miss Bennett's personal hairdresser. "I was very sad indeed to hear the news," said Carey. "She was a wonderful person."

MR. AND MRS. Eldon N. Rich have returned to Mill Valley from a four weeks' trip to France and Italy. Highlight of the trip for Mrs. Rich was France, especially Paris. She reports that she was happy to discover that her years of studying French paid off, for she was able to converse freely. She came home with a new short hairdo. There are only two styles in Paris at the moment, she says, the very long and elaborate and the very short and simple. She advises women planning to go to Europe to take their own hairsprays since the European sprays are lacquer.

Junior Theatre Unit To Open With 'Blue Zoo' On Thursday

The curtain will open on an original play, when Northgate Unit of the Junior Theatre of Marin presents "The Blue Zoo", at Hoffman School, on Thursday at 2 p.m.

The comedy, by Marilyn Miskimen (Mrs. John A.) of San Rafael, was written for this fourth junior theatre workshop, and will feature original music by Mrs. Ferney McKibben, Lucas Valley, with costumes designed by Mrs. Robert Densmore, Lucas Valley, assisted by Mrs. E. Oscar Chambers, of Terra Linda. Mrs. Leonard Truesdell, Lucas Valley, has directed the choreography.

The production, directed by Mrs. L. Severt Gaustad, San Rafael, will offer two matinees, Thursday and Friday, at 2 p.m., with the final performance slated for Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

A cast of 40 children will present the story of this rather unusual zoo, with its extraordinary animals, and people. Assuming leading roles are Liz Pierce, "Mrs. Vandervere Van Dyck"; Claudia Gaustad, "The Zoo Keeper"; and Bruce Chambers, "The Answer".

According to Mrs. Miskimen, president of Northgate unit, "For the past four years, we have approached each workshop by reading a multitude of plays. After the script committee selects one, we must then adapt it for our traditionally large cast. Rather than rewriting, or writing in additional parts, Mrs. Gaustad encouraged me to write the entire play. With her help, and the thought of original music, costuming, and choreography, it has been an exciting project. As well as writing it for our children, I've indulged myself by poking a little fun at society and politics."

Mrs. Henry Pierce of Terra Linda, a former president of the Northgate unit, is serving as workshop coordinator, with Mrs. Raymond Knapp of San Rafael, treasurer and ticket chairman. Mrs. Truesdell is birthday party reservations chairman.

Esterel Hemlines— Above The Kneecap

PARIS (AP)—The Paris fall and winter fashion collections opened with the "cavalier look" from Jacques Esterel. He showed a curvy high-bodiced redingote shape with back-tilted tricorne hats.

Most hems hit just above the kneecap though several rose two inches above.

ESTEREL'S clothes fit close as can be over a high, small bosom and across the shoulder blades. This was the narrowest point of the silhouette, which then left the body in a swelling bell shape or conical flare to the hem. The high bodice was sometimes marked by a thin belt, but the line was more often smooth and unbroken.

SMALL SUIT jackets flipped from under the tiny bosom to rest on swinging flared skirts. Many suits had long below-hip jackets fitted close on top and belling out to rest lightly on full skirts. Sleeves were thin.

Esterel's look was both rounded and rigid. He needed heavy fabrics to achieve it. Thick gabardines prevailed for day, and there were stiff zibelines, stiff, fine-ribbed silk and cushiony damask matelasses for evening.

SHORT SILK evening suits had long tunic tops, always tight to the top of the midriff, then widening over swinging full skirts. Many of the long tunic tops were strapless, others with very low backlines had weskit buttonings and cutaways. Some did double duty—shown once over a short skirt, again over a long one.

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7¼ years)
- You can get your money when you need it
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer payment of federal tax until the Bonds are cashed

WASHINGTON—The Russians now are flying a space superrocket which may put men on the moon in 1967, two years ahead of the United States.

This rocket seems to be "the other shoe" which the space agency administrator, James E. Webb, has been waiting for the Russians to drop.

When they put up the 13.5-ton Proton I unmanned space station, the Soviets said it was lifted by a powerful new rocket, but gave no indication of its thrust rating.

The weight, however, indicated to U.S. rocket specialists that the thrust was about 2 million pounds, if it's liquid-fueled, and more than 3.5 million pounds, if its first stage burns solid fuel. Solid fuels are less efficient than liquids.

The most powerful U.S. rocket is the Air Force's Titan 3C, generating a total of 3 million pounds of thrust in all its stages and capable of placing 12.5 tons into a 100-mile circular earth orbit.

Titan doesn't figure in the moon race, however. The Soviet rocket, if liquid-fueled, thus may be comparable to the Saturn 1B, the 1.8 million-pound thrust rocket the U.S. plans to start flying next year. Saturn 1B can put 17 tons into low earth orbit.

Saturn 1B, partly a building block of the monster Saturn V moon rocket which will generate a total 8.7 million pounds of thrust, will lift the three units of the Apollo moonship into earth orbit for tryouts.

The new Russian rocket is believed to be at least comparable to Saturn 1B, or perhaps even more powerful, since it placed Proton I into an orbit that ranged from 376 miles to 114 miles above Earth. Putting payloads into higher orbits requires more rocket thrust.

The Russians have long indicated a desire to go to the moon not directly from earth surface, but from an intermediate launching base in earth orbit where the lunar ship would be assembled in segments. U.S. rocket men consider this route more complex, and more susceptible to mishaps. They insist the U.S. way—direct ascent from Earth to a lunar orbit with one huge rocket—is more efficient.

The 45-ton Apollo moonship is considered an absolute minimum weight to send three men to the moon and bring them back safely. If the Russians decided to send only two men to the moon, they could do it with a smaller spaceship.

In any case, an attempt to fly to the moon, or even around the moon, without landing there, would demand at least one or two docking operations in orbit —a technique the Russians have yet to demonstrate.

The Soviets have said, however, that rendezvous and docking are on their space agenda, and they are expected to start perfecting the technique before the end of the year. The first U.S. docking attempt will be made on the sixth Gemini flight later this year.

Some specialists believe the Soviets used the same basic rocket to launch the 184-pound Sputnik I back in 1957 and the 11,730-pound manned Voskhod ships in 1964 and 1965. This was accomplished by increasing the thrust from 800,000 pounds to 1.4 million pounds.

If the thrust of the new Soviet rocket can be similarly boosted, the rocket will be big enough to accomplish a circumlunar flight directly from Earth, or a moon landing with one docking operation in earth orbit.

Man's First Try At Cycle Riding Is Disastrous

He climbed aboard a friend's cycle at 9 p.m. and started down the street near his home at 724 Butternut Drive. He didn't make the turn at Birchwood Drive, but instead drove the cycle over the sidewalk, through a half-inch board fence, and over the patio at the home of Dr. Hideo H. Itabashi, 700 Birchwood Drive.

Gravestones Are Toppled

ERPFTING, Germany (AP)—Five gravestones in the Jewish cemetery of this small Bavarian village were toppled during the weekend, police reported yesterday.

Two detectives from the Bavarian state police were sent here to aid local police in investigating the incident.

Bavaria has been the scene of a series of anti-semitic incidents in the last month or so, most of them in the vicinity of Bamberg.

More Negroes Die Of Blood Pressure

BERKELEY (UPI)—High blood pressure kills more Negroes than whites because Negroes do not have access to expensive drugs and other medical care, a University of California sociologist said yesterday.

Dr. Jan Howard cited "differential drug usage"—the proposition that white patients are better insured and have more access to hospitalization and medical care than Negroes—as the main reason for the difference.

Torpedo Blast Being Probed

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Coast Guard today began an inquest into the death of the trawler Snoopy, blown to matchsticks Friday night by a torpedo dredged up from the ocean floor.

A formal hearing, mandatory in all sea disasters, will be held soon but Coast Guard spokesmen said not date has yet been set.

GOP SUGGESTS CONGRESS CHANGE

More Minority Representation Sought On Committee Staffs In House, Senate

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Republican suggestions for reorganizing Congress are hitting a recurrent theme—a need for more minority representation on committee staffs.

Outnumbered by Democrats two to one in the House and Senate, Republicans contend they are not getting a fair share of staff appointments. Without adequate staffing, Republicans say they are unable to keep up with the Democrats' galloping legislative pace and to offer alternative legislative programs.

On some major congressional committees, they claim, the staff ratio of Democrats to Republicans is 10 to 1 and higher.

The American system of checks and balances, while permitting the majority views to prevail, "has always given the minority party an opportunity to be heard." Allott told the joint committee on congressional reorganization.

The staffing dispute has smoldered on Capitol Hill for months. In years when the Republicans were in control, the Democrats complained of being shortchanged on staffs.

Especially now that the federal government is moving into more varied and complex areas, members of Congress rely heavily on their staff to analyze the thousands of legislative proposals offered each year, and to keep a critical eye on the executive branch of government.

Anonymous committee staff employees are often the real authors of important legislation that bears name of a famous senator or house member, or the force behind a relentless congressional investigation.

The minority staff problem varies from committee to committee, and can be traced ultimately to the committee chairman, who is, of course, a member of the majority party and who decides the size and makeup of his committee.

Aeronautical and space sciences, 14 to 2; appropriations, 32 to 3; armed services, 7 to 2; commerce, 28 to 4; finance, 6 to 0; judiciary, 13 to 1; labor and public welfare, 17 to 5; public works, 10 to 3; rules and administration, 10 to 2.

"I don't know what all the fuss is about," said a House committee chairman recently, "I think we are being very generous."

But rather than brush off Republican complaints lightly, most Democrats take the position that committee staffs really are—or should be—non-partisan, and that they work for the committee as a whole, Republicans and Democrats alike.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, says that "Congress will be best served if its professional staffs remain moderate in numbers, high in competence, broad in understanding, versatile and flexible in adaptation, and non-partisan in outlook."

That may be the ideal, but in practice, most committee staffs do split on a party basis —with Democratic staffers lining up behind Democratic-proposed programs and Republican staffers looking for flaws in those programs and suggesting alternatives.

Staff partisanship, for instance, was evident in the widely publicized Bobby Baker investigation, conducted by the Senate Rules and Administration Committee. When the probe into the financial affairs of the former secretary to the senate majority was called, committee chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., tapped an old North Carolina friend and Democrat, Maj. Lennox P. McLendon, to serve as general counsel.

Republicans on the panel charged that McLendon mainly followed paths leading away from possible Democrat embarrassment, and declined to listen to their suggestions. Republicans say the committee's minority counsel, Burkett Van Kirk, was virtually shut out of the investigation.

In the House, the Republican leadership this year has relied less on minority committee staffs, and has set up a separate staff, headed by William Prendergast, former research director of the Republican National Committee, to look for weaknesses in the Democratic administration's program.

Bids To Be Let For Humboldt Flood Projects

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state will put three Humboldt County flood damage projects up for bid this week, with the major repair job carrying an estimated price tag of $1,531,000.

That's for constructing a bridge and roadway approaches at the Klamath River on Route 96, just south of Orleans. The project also calls for installing slope protection and metal guard railings.

Some $80,000 is set aside for repairing the substructure of the Eel River Bridge on Route 1, just south of Fernbridge. About $22,000 is available for repairing a bridge across Redwood Creek on U. S. 299, 18 miles east of Blue Lake.

All three sets of bids will be opened Aug. 25 in Sacramento.

San Rafael Youth Has Bad Day

Frank D. Grange, 18, of 30 Novato Street, Apt. 205, San Rafael, had an unlucky time of it Sunday morning.

San Rafael Policeman J. V. Leonard said he was at the Red Kettle Restaurant at 209 Third Street at 5 a.m. to investigate a disturbance when he saw Grange pocket a bowl of toothpicks from the counter and walk out the door.

Patrolman Leonard followed Grange to his car and found the bowl stuffed under the front seat. Grange was booked at county jail on a charge of petty theft. The bowl was worth exactly $1. Bail was set at $276.

Evelyn G. McIlwaine of 22 Kinross Drive, San Rafael, called police Sunday night and complained that someone had thrown two rocks through the front window of her home.

San Anselmo Man Crashes Into Pole

James P. Callan, 18, of 30 Medway Road, San Anselmo, was treated for cuts on his chest and hand at Marin General Hospital Saturday afternoon after he drove his eastbound car into a utility pole at 337 Cascade Drive, Fairfax.

Callan first told police he swerved his car into the pole to avoid a dog in the road. He later said he swerved to avoid an oncoming car.

New Home Care Program Offers Boon To Invalids

Specialized medical services can be brought into the private home for those who are not so acutely ill as to require a hospital bed.

As a practical matter, however, most patients in that category continue to occupy a hospital bed because of complications involved in obtaining the various home services needed.

Perhaps the patient in your home needs one or more of the following services:

Visiting nurse, social casework, physiotherapy, occupational or speech therapy, nutritional counseling, homemaker service, laboratory services, special equipment, or transportation.

Rounding up these services is usually too much of a job for the average layman. And the family doctor just does not have the time to make the various contacts needed to get these services to your home. Thus, the patient, who could be at home among familiar surroundings, continues to occupy hospital space.

To remedy this situation, a new service called Marin Home Care is scheduled to go into operation next month. This non-profit organization provides package service to the patient and relieves the private physician of all the phone calls, harassment and paper work.

It literally "brings the hospital to the patient" in his own home, providing a coordinated set of services for the patient as directed by his private physician.

If the project operates as expected, it will provide valuable service to the patients, to doctors and to the community at large.

Advantages of the Home Care Program are many.

Cost to the patient is reduced. An efficiently organized and operated Home Care Program costs about $10 a day, as opposed to $50 to $70 per day for hospital care or $10 to $20 for nursing home care.

Many patients want to be at home among familiar surroundings. Faced with institutional living for the rest of their lives, some patients begin losing all motivation to stay well and alive. When returned to their familiar home surroundings, family, cooking and friends, they literally bloom into creative and worthwhile lives.

Marin Home Care will provide an organized service to physicians. Instead of spending hours on the telephone trying to enlist various community services, the physician can make one call to Marin Home Care, with headquarters in the Civic Center. Marin Home Care will do the rest of the "leg work."

Surveys show that about 20 per cent of acute hospital bed occupancy is unnecessary. Some of these patients, transferred to home care, would open up badly needed hospital space for the acutely ill.

Marin Home Care does not provide physicians. Each patient must have a physician who practices in Marin. When that physician recommends home care, and if the family is willing and able to have the patient at home, the Home Care Program can go into operation.

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO — There are only about 40 California condors left in the Ventura county area in which they headquarter but there were more state, federal and other high echelon officials on hand in Sacramento than that to discuss their fate last Tuesday.

THE PROBLEM briefly is that a 53,000-acre refuge has been set aside for the huge birds, a member of the vulture family and in danger of becoming extinct, in the Los Padres national forest in Ventura county. The United States Water Conservation District, in Santa Paula, wants to build the Topatopa dam on Sespe Creek in the same area.

Officials of the National Audubon Society, including its president, Carl W. Buchheister, testified that the water project development and its subsequent recreational uses might result in the wiping out of the present condor populations.

William Price, general manager of the UWCD, said the district has tried to work out a conservation program which might permit construction of the project and saving of the condors at the same time. And Price said that, while Ventura county residents in the area regard the condor as a "valued curiosity," it would become an "unwanted pirahna" if its preservation stagnated water development in the area.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service said it was making a study of the condor and possible effects from the water development but would need a two-year delay in construction in order to make a determination.

The U.S. bureau of reclamation, which is making a feasibility study of the Sespe Creek project of the UWCD, said it hopes to have a report out in December but is being held up by the U.S. F&WS.

Charles Connaughton, regional forester (for California) for the U.S. forest service, noted the forest service was responsible for making the decision on land use for the area. Connaughton said that, when all the facts from all sides were available, the forest service would make its decision.

Walter T. Shannon, state director of fish and game, presided at the meeting but took no active part other than to have brought the participants together.

Also present were Senator Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, and Assemblyman Burt Henson, D-Ventura.

AT THE ROOT OF the whole problem, according to the Audubon Society and Dr. Alden H. Miller of the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, University of California, is the temperamental attitude of the condor. Also important is the extreme interest shown by bird lovers and the public in general all over the country as to the welfare of the condors.

Several weeks ago a condor, with a wingspread of nine feet, one inch, was found dead in Fresno county. It became a matter of concern for several weeks until the cause of death was found — which was determined to be his collision with a wire and the resulting fall to earth.

Miller said that a person who approaches a condor nest, even a half-mile away can disturb the birds. He said one person could disturb several spots and prevent condors roosting within an area of several square miles.

MILLER, and Audubon Society members, said about nine cases of reported shootings of condors were known. This and disturbance from development in the area, such as the proposed water project and recreation area, well could lead to the bird's becoming extinct, they said.

Editors Told To Go Kill Vietnamese

Editor, Independent Journal:

You do take a high and mighty stand, don't you?

What a pity you do not demonstrate these ideals by helping to kill some of those little people in Viet Nam—why don't you go over there instead of writing stupid editorials for your dull little local people?

Perhaps you feel the pen is mightier than the sword—at least you are on the safe side, condemning those who dare to criticize the status quo.

Nevertheless, there are intelligent people who do just that, and who want peace—and by that we mean No More Killing, No More Wars.

The Great Society And Socialist Trend

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Stackhouse's letter re the "Poverty War" (I-J, July 16) was one of the finest summations of the destructive facets of our 32-year-old socialistic program, a program that has been steadily undermining everything of value that originally made these United States the wonderful country it once was. That letter should be reprinted occasionally, especially around election time.

The New Deal, Welfare State, New Frontier, Great Society policies so well itemized by Mr. Stackhouse are of such record that I challenge any Democrat to defend them or to deny that their program started by Roosevelt is socialistic.

Put another way, socialism has never worked, is not what any sensible, self-respecting American wants, so why have the Democratic administrations embraced it?

Teen-Agers Can Hit Vandals' Sore Spots

Editor, Independent Journal:

So the recreation center in Terra Linda has been closed because of the actions of some stupid vandals. This is one of those things that cannot be cured by all the combined outrage and umbrage of all the adults in Marin.

But the kids in the area do have it in their power to help correct this situation and perhaps get the center reopened. Kids being what they are, they know pretty well who the pinheaded punks were. If they would now proceed to ostracize these individuals who have robbed them of their center—that is, completely ostracize them, don't even give them the time of day for the next three months—then perhaps the message may get through.

This should certainly be more effective than indignant editorials (and letters) in the I-J.

Youth Might Assist In Holding Tax Down

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Every time we have an increase in taxes to build, maintain and staff our schools, someone writes to you deploring the effect of the increase on the retired people living on small, fixed incomes who have spent years paying for their homes only to be "taxed out" of them in their declining years. The injustice of this mark of progress is obvious. Along with this is the rising number of hoodlums in the county who destroy what we have all made sacrifices to create, and the prevalence of the "get-something-for-nothing" attitude not only in the children, but in many adults.

Perhaps some of the elderly people would be able to keep their homes a little longer if some of our teen-agers would volunteer to spend a few hours leaf-raking, sweeping, window-washing, car-washing for their neighbors who have small incomes and large tax bills. The young people might appreciate their beautiful schools and all that goes with them a little more if they "paid" a little for them with a few hours of work a month.

What Is Purpose Of Salary Lists?

Editor, Independent Journal:

Upon reviewing the many teachers' salaries recently published by your newspaper, I am confused as to your purpose for publishing these lists. What public service is served through this type of statistical listing?

It is my understanding that teachers' salaries are determined by each district's board and they are graded according to years of service within a district and amount of credits beyond their A.B. degree. Without these additional facts your lists are not only incomplete, but can be misconstrued and misleading. It would be in the public service, perhaps, to publish the comparative salary schedules for the different districts. In this way districts with difficulty in obtaining raises for their teachers could see how far afield they are.

I have attempted to discuss this policy of yours with various people and the main reason given me for this action has been that all other city employees' salaries are published, why not teachers'? This may be true, but is still not a valid reason . . .

What end is served except to either satisfy a parent that his child's teacher is adequately paid, or to dissatisfy a parent that his child's teacher is overpaid? What scale can be used to determine the adequacy of any salary without the additional information on years of service and educational betterment available?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A BEAUTIFULLY garbed socialite stopped into a Palm Beach milinery salon and instructed the saleslady, "Will you please take that droopy red hat with the yellow feathers out of the window?"

"Dee-lighted," said the saleslady, for the hat, priced at two hundred dollars, had proved a tough one to sell. She placed it in front of the socialite and beamed. "There you are, madam."

"Very good and thank you so much," said the socialite, marching empty-handed out of the shop. "That hat has annoyed the life out of me every time I've passed by here for the past month."

Unknown Anarchist Had Key Role In Freedom Of Speech Trends

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although Communists despised him, Benjamin Gitlow was a nobody to most Americans when he died last week in New York at 74. Yet, he was anything but a nobody.

HE WAS GIVEN an imperishable place in American history 40 years ago for a reason he couldn't have imagined at the time.

The Supreme Court's decision in his case in 1925—he had been convicted of criminal anarchy — was one of the half-dozen or so most important opinions the court has ever given.

Ironically, because it did him no good, at the very moment of turning him down the court threw in a few paragraphs which opened the way for it later to protect individual liberties from instrusion by the states.

For a decade he was one of its top leaders, made three trips to Moscow, was honored by the Kremlin, broke with Stalin in 1929 over Russian dictatorship, was thrown out of the party, and became a dedicated anti-Red.

THE EVENT which put him in the history books began in 1919 when he and some others published the "Left-Wing Manifesto" at a time when a New York law forbade "advocacy of criminal anarchy."

The manifesto called for mass strikes and establishing a "dictatorship of the proletariat." He was accused, and found guilty, of advocating the overthrow of the government by force.

Up until then the court had been the great protector of property but not the protector of the individal's right of freedom of speech from state interference.

In ruling against Gitlow the court said he had advocated changing the government by unlawful means and wasn't preaching an "abstract doctrine." That was the reason for upholding his conviction.

His sentence had been five to 10 years but he was finally pardoned.

BUT THEN, in a few paragraphs which did not apply to Gitlow or help him, the court made a few statements which were to change its course in protecting freedom of speech.

The Constitution's First Amendment, while forbidding Congress to abridge freedom of speech, religion and assembly, doesn't forbid the states to do so.

But in 1868 the 14th Amendment was added to the Constitution and said states can't deprive citizens of life, liberty or property without "due process of law."

If the court ever needed any excuse to link the first and 14th Amendments together — and thus protect freedom of speech from both state and federal infringement—it could have done so easily any time after 1868.

It preferred to protect property by linking the two amendments until the Gitlow case. And there the court threw in the statement that the liberty mentioned in the 14th Amendment included freedom of expression.

It added that the Constitution, nevertheless, didn't confer an "absolute right to speak without responsibility." So, it said, the freedom of speech can't be abused.

FROM THIS decision in Gitlow's case the court went on—but slowly—to protect freedom of speech although it's had some trouble making up its mind sometimes on just how free freedom of speech could be.

Justice Hugo Black insists the freedom of speech guaranteed by the Constitution is "absolute." He thinks the First Amendment would even outlaw suits for libel and slander. The rest of the court hasn't gone that far.

The Gitlow in Gitlow vs. New York—which is the way the case is listed in law books—may not mean much to future generations so far as he as an individual goes but his case is a landmark.

Russ Missiles Soon To Ring Hanoi Area

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Seventeen definitely identified deadly Russian SAM-2 ground-to-air missile sites are now either completed or under construction in North Viet Nam—most of them in the strategically crucial Hanoi-Haiphong area.

LATEST SITES detected by U.S. reconnaissance flights are in the vicinity of a two-mile-long rail bridge some 20 miles south of the Chinese border. Four SAM-2 sites are underway there to safeguard this vital bridge on the main rail line linking Hanoi and Nanning, a major Chinese military supply and communications center.

An estimated 40 per cent of Chinese military supplies to North Viet Nam pass over this bridge. The Joint Chiefs warn that unless it is destroyed in the next few weeks the Russians will have completed the four SAM-2 missile sites, and air strikes will become "prohibitively costly."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has flatly rejected repeated recommendations this be done.

Military authorities particularly have advocated blasting the missile sites in the Hanoi-Haiphong area — main rail, port and depot centers. Their destruction would be a crippling blow to the Communists.

But every air strike proposal has been turned down, principally on two grounds. The virtual certainty of heavy civilian casualties in the densely populated section; the similar likelihood among the considerable number of Soviet "technicians" and "specialists" building the sites and manning the SAM-2s.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS have been told of one instance where the President's chary policy on bombing important North Viet Nam targets resulted in a futile attack.

For weeks the Joint Chiefs sought permission for large-scale strikes at a key military base in the Dien Bien Phu valley, 185 miles northwest of Hanoi. Intelligence reports, including detailed information from a defector, indicated that the 136th Brigade, which participated in the envelopment of the French at Dien Bien Phu, was training at this base in preparation for combat operations in South Viet Nam.

Finally, on July 2, several months after the Joint Chiefs' initial recommendation, the President authorized an air strike. The mission was successful — up to a point.

ELEMENTS OF the 316th Brigade are now fighting U.S. troops guarding the big airfield at Pleiku in the central highlands of South Viet Nam. Prisoners from this Red outfit have been captured.

Anti-Poverty Program Of Sorts Helps Out Salinger, Cranston

I WASN'T ALWAYS a suspicious old codger. Time was when I was a suspicious young one. You see, I learned fairly early that political nostrums were no better than the ethics of the purveyors.

Not that I don't like a parade as well as the next fellow. Were I sure that the troops of the Welfare State now triumphantly marching through the halls of Congress could make good on their guarantee to free us all from the indignities of stoop labor and poverty by taking part of our rent, food and medical bills as well as our children's education, I'd be throwing my hat in the air for the liberators, too.

But, somehow, that something we get for nothing always winds up costing us twice what it's worth. And the con men are part of the same firm that promised us an honest report on the Bobby Baker affair.

NOW REPUBLICANS, axiomatically, have no morals, so scandals under them are to be expected. But when the story of Teapot Dome broke, Calvin Coolidge's Puritan ethics forbade him to sweep the matter under the rug.

He demanded and received the resignation of Atty. Gen. Daugherty when that worthy refused a Senate investigation committee access to his files. And it was at Silent Cal's suggestion that the U.S. Secret Service was assigned to the case: and it was the evidence they gathered which led eventually to the conviction of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, the oil tycoon.

Which is not precisely the way the chief architect of the Great Society handled the Baker inquiry. But then it's not the liberal way of doing things, apparently: the law must be used with discretion.

OUT HERE in California, we have State Controller Alan Cranston, a gentleman whose heart was bleeding for all humanity when the only state whose welfare L.B.J. was concerned with was Texas. No sparrow fell anywhere in the world but Cranston, a sufferer from chronic hemophilia of the aorta, shed at least a quart of blood speaking in its behalf.

Liberals flock to such a man instinctively, and Cranston is credited with organizing the California Democratic Council which has at times been labeled "extremist" even by other Demos. This is obviously untrue, since Cranston has just made a speech denouncing extremists of both right and left. If the CDC plugs for the recognition of Red China and the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, that is part of the necessary democratic dialogue: Only those who hold different views are properly termed "extremists."

Last year Cranston offered himself as Democratic candidate for the Senate, but lost to a Virginia carpetbagger, Pierre Salinger, who charged Cranston with levying campaign contributions on men he had appointed to office. Then Salinger, you will remember, lost to Republican George Murphy.

The primary left Cranston owing over $100,000, while Salinger, contestant in both heats, wound up with a deficit of $230,000. (I gather these figures from a liberal political reporter who certainly did not vote for Murphy.) Losers, for some strange reason, find their backers shy away, so the bills were unpaid.

NOW A STATE LAW requires all such debts must be paid within 25 days after the election and makes any violation a criminal offense. You might then expect that both Cranston and Salinger had been rotting in prison since last November.

But luckily we in California have a government of understanding men, not of laws. The other night, some 2000 Californians ponied up $100 apiece for a dinner at which Hubert Humphrey spoke. Usually you can get Sir Hubert to speak at the drop of a hat on any given subject—and for free—but this was different: The proceeds went to pay off the debts of the prospective jailbirds. And Gov. Edmund Brown was there, so I'm sure it was legal.

And in addition there was a souvenir dinner booklet in which sympathetic business firms were allowed to advertise. Those who took $1,000 worth of ads were entitled to buy 10 dinner tickets at only $25 apiece, so it was really a bargain.

And the understanding income tax authorities cooperated by ruling that the $1,000 for advertising could be listed as legitimate business expense and that the $250 for tickets could then come under deductible entertainment allowance. Neat, what?

I'LL STILL TAKE Coolidge—but I must admit the anti-poverty program is working: even outside of Appalachia, if you know the right people.

Novato's Islands, Finally, Will Have Some Greenery

AFTER YEARS of talk and many news stories, the islands in Highway 101 through Novato are being landscaped. This is being done not out of the goodness and bigness of the State Division of Highways, but because of the constant badgering by the city council of Novato and its willingness to assume an expense which by all rights should have been the state's.

The city council agreed to pay for the installation of the irrigation system, furnish the water and maintain the islands for the state.

It did this, not because it had so much money, but because it felt that beautification of the islands was worth it. Without a doubt, in past years, Novato has had the ugliest section of highway through any city.

The islands were a mess of weeds which collected all of the blown paper and debris possible. They were a disgrace not only to Novato, but to the state. Only after repeated complaints would the state even mow the islands.

Now, just the sight of moist fertile black earth in the islands is an improvement. The cork oak trees in them which normally look dry and desolate this time of year look better because their roots have water.

The state plantings in the islands should be done in about a month. Then Novato will have a section of highway it can be proud of, like the old section of the highway through Santa Rosa.

ONE IRONIC THOUGHT—just as the islands are being landscaped, the city and highway patrol have devised a system whereby the traffic can whiz through town without stopping, even to see the landscaping.

The city council has not relaxed either. It is on a campaign to get the division of highways to landscape the interchange at Highway 37. It may take years, as did the islands in Highway 101, but we'll bet that the city council won't relax until it wins.

Maybe it can be blamed on the summer weather, but the Novato Unified School District trustees were in a rather slaphappy mood when they opened the meeting a week ago. There was much banter and chit chat back and forth. In fact, it came as close to being a disorganized meeting as any we've attended in a long time.

One item on the agenda called for the Novato Teachers Assn. to present a plaque to the governing board. Ben Hicks, president of the association, made the presentation. One of his remarks fit the tone of the meeting.

"I came here for two purposes: one to present the plaque and the other to learn the proper way to conduct a meeting as I just became president of the teacher's association," he said.

We don't know what he learned, but he might have found out how not to run a meeting.

The 84th fighter interceptor squadron at Hamilton Air Force base won the "Little Bill" western shoot-off at Hamilton and will represent the West Coast at the "William Tell" world wide weapons meet at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.

LEST ANY of our locally stationed boys get hurt, we must warn that Tyndall has been the scene of some strange happenings in recent months.

One of these concerns the jet planes going faster than sound and causing a sonic boom. This seems to aggravate the male alligators into making a noise almost equivalent, if we are to believe the news releases. The male alligator seems to think it is a challenge from another bull alligator.

The other concerns the traffic at Tyndall. It was on this base that the air police frantically hauled down a 76 year old motorist who was driving his car down the jet runway. He had made a wrong turn, and somehow or other, made it onto the field.

"I though the traffic was mighty scarce for such a big freeway," he said when informed where he was.

Marinite To Go To Costa Rica

Miss Ward, who lives at 7 Mohawk Avenue, earned a bachelor of arts degree in social sciences at San Francisco State College in June, 1964. Since then she has been working part-time as a nurse at Ross General Hospital. She retired from the army as a major three years ago.

Miss Ward served as a nurse during World War II and the Korean War. She will give health instruction in Costa Rica upon her completion of training at San Marcos. Her eight weeks of study in Spanish language and Costa Rican culture will be completed in mid-September.

County's Auction Proves Success

A public auction of surplus Marin County trucks, cars and office equipment at the Civic Center Saturday grossed about $20,000, according to John F. Hettrich, purchasing agent.

Everything offered was sold, including one sedan that had been extensively damaged in a crash, Hettrich said.

The moon is approaching its new phase; the morning stars are Saturn and Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus and Mars.

Those born today are under the sign of Leo. French dramatist and novelist Alexander Dumas was born on this day in 1824.

On this day in history:

In 1919, a serious race riot broke out on the Chicago bathing beach skirting Lake Michigan after a Negro boy was attacked. Thirty-eight persons were killed.

In 1953, the Korean War ended with the signing of an armistice at Panmunjom. The armistice followed the longest truce talks in the history of warfare—two years, 17 days and 575 meetings.

In 1954, Britain and Egypt agreed on terms ending the 72-year English occupation of the Suez Canal Zone.

Two Unusual Plays Defeat Bridge Player In Cold Game

The younger bridge champions are full of fine ideas, suitable for fixed partnerships, especially in tournament play.

If you sprang these ideas on a pick-up partner in a game of kitchen bridge, he'd shake his head groggily after the first hand; and after the second, he'd remember an appointment on the other side of town.

Opening lead — ♠ 8

LOW CARD

"Lead a low card only when you're really interested in a suit," they urge. "If you have nothing in the suit, lead a high card to warn your partner."

When this hand was played a few months ago in the competition for the Vanderbilt Cup, Jeff Rubens, editor of The Bridge Journal, led the eight of spades from the West hand to warn his partner that he personally had nothing much in spades.

If it struck a good spade holding in the East hand, well and good; otherwise, East could shift at will to a different suit.

NOT DECEIVED

Declarer played the king of spades from dummy at the first trick, but Roger Stern, playing the East cards, was not deceived. He won with the ace of spades and shifted to a club.

The exact club to lead is important in this situation. Dummy's clubs would trap West's ten if East made a normal low lead.

PLAYED LOW

Thinking East had led a suit headed by jack-10, South played low from his hand and won with dummy's queen of clubs.

When East regained the lead with the ace of hearts he led another club, and West defeated the contract with three club tricks.

Answer: Pass.

You have 11 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton, but this hand is not even close to an opening bid. You have only 1 Quick Trick, and should have at least 2 Quick Tricks for a sound opening bid.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Book Describes Changes In Japan's Medical System

VAN DELLEN

Dr. John Z. Bowers' book, Medical Edcuation in Japan (Harper and Row, New York, Evanston, and London), may interest our readers. Japan was closed to the west until a century ago and practically every Japanese doctor studied and practiced Chinese medicine. Dr. Bowers tells how the change came about and why the German system was adopted.

The books tells, in detail, the goals, aspirations, and problems of two medical students who are followed through college, medical school, internship, and a five-year researchship. This is of special interest because neophyte physicians are the same the world over.

THE GERMAN SYSTEM emphasizes post-graduate research, an academic career or a hospital appointment. But the competition is so keep that the majority are disappointed and forced to enter private practice despite their wasted five years in overcrowded laboratories with other post-graduate students.

In Japan, the doctor-patient relationship is less personalized than in the United States. The patient and relatives are reluctant to discuss personal affairs outside the family circle. In addition, they have compulsory state medicine and there are no general practitioners with whom the patient can establish a long-term relationship. The offices are flooded with patients and the physician hardly has time for more than a casual greeting.

LACK OF RELIGION also enters the picture. "In the west, the sympathy and devotion of the physician are ascribed to our Christian and Hebraic influences." A comparable situation existed through Confucian and Buddhist teachings, but this is disappearing as a result of hasty modernization by American educators without full understanding of Japanese culture.

Japan is considered a non-religious country even though the population is listed as Shintoist or Buddhists. The shrines and temples are crowded with sightscers. The major contact with priests is at funeral services. The young doctor acquires knowledge but, lacking religion, has little to offer in a humanitarian way.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

STUFFY NOSE

F. G. writes: My nose is clogged most of the time and I have to breathe through my mouth. What can I do?

REPLY

Nasal trouble of this type may result from allergy, adenoids polyps or infection, but why guess? When a physician finds the cause, he can prescribe proper remedies. Meanwhile, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on allergic or vasomotor rhinitis.

WATER IN EARS

G. D. writes: After a swim, what is the best way to remove water from the ears?

REPLY

Ever since I was a boy I've been able to do it by leaning over to the right or left. A towel or handkerchief is better when one is available.

COLOR OF THE EYES

A. B. W. writes: Would an individual who has one green eye and one blue eye be rejected from the armed service?

REPLY

No. The color of the eyes has nothing to do with a man's ability to fight.

POCKET FULL OF RYE

Y. D. writes: Will a slug of whisky every night as a nightcap hurt my diverticulum?

REPLY

New Clues Uncovered To Bee Sting Danger

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—There is new evidence that many persons may harbor dangerous allergy to bee stings without knowing it.

More than half of a large group of bee-sting victims reported that severe reactions—ranging from unconsciousness to shock—occurred abruptly. Many recalled being stung on previous occasions without incident.

The finding is disclosed by a committee of the American Academy of Allergy, along with a reminder that August is the month that brings out the worst in bees. At the same time the committee recommended anti - bee venom "shots" for anyone experiencing system-wide reaction following an insect sting.

No one knows the exact incidence of severe reaction or fatalities from insect stings. But 30 to 50 bee-sting deaths are recorded each year in the United States. One Air Force expert believes insects kill more persons than snakebites throughout the world—or about 40,000 persons a year.

The allergy academy says in the American Medical Assn.'s Journal that anti-bee vaccine reduced the reaction in 90 per cent of the patients receiving it. In 65 per cent of those having no protection, reactions got progressively worse with each sting.

". . . severe generalized reactions in over half of our registrants were unheralded by any form of warning," the committee said.

For example, 83 of the severe reactors recalled no previous stings and 303 had been stung earlier with either no reaction or slight local reaction.

While August ranks as the top month for stings, there is no evidence that bites are more or less sever toward the end of the summer. Yellow jackets, bees and wasps were the top offenders.

The committee tried to determine if allergies to drugs and other things increased the chance of bee-sting reaction. Though a number of patients complained of the two conditions, the committee said the findings support the suspicion of some physicians that bee-sting reactions strike those without other allergies, too.

There is no simple test for bee-sting sensitivity. Special blood tests sometimes show a high level of antibodies in persons previously stung. But this is no guarantee they will react violently if stung again, according to one authority.

Bee-sting vaccine recommended for those with known sensitivity is mostly a "mash" or extract of ground-up bees, wasps, hornets and yellow-jackets. A refined vaccine, using pure venom, is under study, but investigators are having trouble storing enough of the stuff for full-scale tests.

Two researchers at George Washington University here are "shocking" bees into stinging a nylon cloth. The precious fluid is then wrung from the cloth and the insect preserved for more milkings.

The allergy committee advises doctors that adrenalin is still the drug of choice in treating immediate reactions to insect stings.

The experts say you can minimize the effect of a sting by flicking out the venom sac, instead of squeezing the poison deeper into the skin. This should be done within two minutes.

The view grows daily in Marin's best-selling newspaper

Each day, Marin adds a special dimension to its panorama of growth. Each 24 hours it creates that which takes you from yesterday into TODAY—the thousand, exciting faces of LOCAL NEWS.

And local news is growing in every area of Marin County as new people, new homes, new businesses take root.

To report all that happens (the trial, the new bank, the grocery specials, the day Johnny met that unusual, striped pussy-cat) is a challenge. To bring ALL the news of Marin into focus that you may be well-informed is a job requiring growth on the part of the Independent-Journal. For news waits for no one.

This is why the I-J has made unusual advances in news services and equipment within this past year—with bigger ones in the offing. In fact, few newspapers of ANY size, anywhere, have added so much for the reader in so short a time. (The sports page, business page, the stocks, the new columnists, wire services, wire photos . . . these should give you an idea. And we might add the increasing news of advertised goods which is no less an adventure in daily living.)

The usual word for this is EXPANSION. But we see it simply as growth to meet your NEED FOR NEWS. It is a commitment to report the TOTAL COMMUNITY . . . the big and the little stories, the humor, the tragedy, the events around you which shape your life, affect your family, and even your future. The larger end, of course, is your RIGHT TO KNOW . . . in a free society . . . the change and the significance of each day's events.

As Marin expands, creating more and more local news, the I-J will print it in full dimension . . . presenting a view that grows daily.

Brown Fired As Guest Speaker

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The American Federation of Teachers last night withdrew its invitation to Gov. Edmund G. Brown to appear Aug. 23 here before its national convention.

"In light of your signing of Assembly Bill 1474, the fraudulent 'negotiations' bill of the California Teachers Assn. and the hostile attitude our members would have toward your appearance, the American Federation of Teachers feels impelled to withdraw its invitation to you to speak at our national convention in Los Angeles Aug. 23."

Mountain Climbing Show To Be Aired

By ROBERT MUSEL

NE W YORK (UPI) — Bill Unsoeld lost nine toes in the conquest of Mount Everest. But the other day he strapped his climbing shoes on for the first time since he nearly froze to death on the roof of the world and took his two children to the top of Mount Hood and down again.

And although his feet were understandably tender after more than two years of resting —except the loyal little toe of his right foot—he took the time to disclose that an American expedition is planning perhaps the most perilous feat in mountaineering history.

It is asking the Nepalese government for permission to try the "impossible" south face of the world's highest mountain—a breath-taking effort that will involve spending at least one night suspended from spikes driven into the sheer 8,000-foot wall of rock below the freezing summit.

"It will make the kind of climbing we have been doing look like kid stuff," Unsoeld said.

But although he meant it sincerely Dr. Unsoeld, deputy Peace Corps administrator of Nepal, is being modest as the nation will be able to see for itself when CBS-TV screens "Americans On Everest," an hour-long color special presented by the National Geographic Society on Sept. 10 (7:30-8:30 EDT).

This first of four National Geaographic programs of exploration and discovery is the story of the selection, training and achievements of the great expedition of 1963 in which five Americans reached the 29,028 foot summit at the cost of one life and agonizing injuries to three other climbers.

Dr. Unsoeld was one of the three who suffered frostbite when they had to spend an unprotected night in 18 degrees below zero weather on the way down and whose lives were saved only because the savage winds suddenly died away. As it was they had to be carried down to lower altitudes on the backs of Sherpa porters and flown out by helicopter to Katmandu where a new drug rushed from the national Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., helped avoid more severe amputations.

Orson Welles narrates the saga from the practice climbs on Mt. Rainier to the planting of the American flag on the highest spot on earth. The program includes the first motion pictures ever taken from the summit.

Unsoeld who climbed Mount Hood (11,245 feet) with his son Regon, 13, ("I was homesick for Oregon when he was born") and Nanda Devi, 11, ("named for a Himalayan peak") said over the telephone that he was gradually breaking them in to the physical and philosophic pleasures of climbing.

They were in the Alps recently, he said, and while there he stopped off to see John Harlan, the only American ever to climb the dangerous north face of the Eiger peak. Harlan, who makes his home in France, revealed his desire to tackle the south face of Everest and Unsoeld agreed to seek the necessary permissions from the Nepalese government.

Burglars Get $600 Loot In Tiburon

Burglars entered the home of Richard N. Agee at 115 Avenida Miraflores, Tiburon, through an unlocked window to steal over $600 worth of movie equipment and a television set, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Agee told officers the loss occurred during the weekend. Taken were two movie cameras, a slide projector, the television set and $10 cash.

Evelyn Marie Reyna, San Francisco, reported her cabin on Lucas Valley Road was entered sometime during the past few weeks and a crated $200 electronics metal detector was stolen. Entry was by prying a window, officers said.

Landlord Wars On Tarita And Her Hula Drums

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tarita, the Tahitian beauty who was once a companion of actor Marlon Brando, is under fire for the noise produced by her four-piece band.

Tarita does a hip-swinging Tahitian specialty three times nightly at a Polynesian night club in North Beach's Columbus Avenue, accompanied by drums and electric guitars.

Vincent Boechieri, owner of a 12-unit apartment house next door, complained yesterday to the Board of Permit Appeals that the noise is driving his tenants batty.

Boechieri hired a private eye and former Army intelligence man to record the sounds in one of the apartments. Boechieri wants the night club's license rescinded and the music stopped

Another hearing was set for next month. The night club's proprietor, Don Robb, said it would cost $20,000 to make his place soundproof.

Monterey pine is a native of central California (San Mateo, Monterey and San Luis Obispo counties).

Athlete Found Guilty On Dope

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Josiah Bell, Galileo High School track star, was found guilty last night on two counts of selling marijuana to fellow students.

A Superior Court jury deliberated eight hours before returning the verdict. Bell's attorney moved for a new trial.

Marin's Cat Aristocrats To Be Chosen

The feline king and queen will be crowned at the Marin County Cat Fanciers' second annual household pet show Sept. 5 at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

The reigning couple — judged the best male and female entries — will receive cat-size crowns to go with their titles. They'll have a supporting court —a duke and duchess (second best male and female) and a prince and princess (best male and female kittens) who will also receive crowns.

In addition to the household pet contest, the show will feature a separate competition for purebred kittens, expected to draw entries from breeders throughout the Bay Area.

The household pet contest is open to any and all "just plain cats," according to R. D. Layman of Corte Madera, president of the Marin Fanciers. Pedigree and registration are not required; the only requirements are that the cats be healthy and more than four months old. All cats entered will receive awards for their special individual feline features.

Show hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with the coronation ceremony starting at 3 p.m.

The kitten match, open to all recognized breeds from three to eight months old, will be a regular cat show in miniature, with all-breed, shorthair specialty and longhair specialty competitions.

Mrs. Eugene Wilson of Ross, a longtime cat breeder and exhibitor and a pioneer in development of the chocolate point Siamese, will judge the household pets. Kitten show judges will be Mrs. Miriam Williams of San Francisco, all-breed; Stan Goldberg of Sausalito, longhair specialty, and Mrs. Veva Ebert of Fremont, shorthair specialty.

Building Plan Draws Protests From Kentfield

Kentfield residents yesterday protested construction on a substandard lot between Wolfe Grade and Wolfe Canyon roads at a hearing before county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill.

David W. Cass of 138 Wolfe Grade Road presented a petition signed by 50 neighbors protesting construction of a single family home on a 4,500-square foot lot in an area where lots are 10,000 square feet. Application for permit to build on the lot was filed by Robert Busse, who contended it is a legal non-conforming lot.

Woodacre Sets Swimming Class

Mrs. Diane Ross Schmidt, a Red Cross-trained instructor, will teach the classes from 9 a.m. to noon. They are open to all residents of the San Geronimo Valley aged seven and over. A housewives class is planned for 11:30 a.m. to noon each day.

Corte Madera Youth Goes To Viet Nam

Pfc. Paul W. Hill, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hill of 10 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, is expected to arrive in Chu-Lai, South Viet Nam, sometime this week.

Berliners Love Us, Visitor Contends

HELGE SCHMODDE
Revisiting U.S.

It has been said that Americans love to be loved by people of other countries. Has 20 years of foreign aid both military and economic gained us the affection we seem to crave?

"If there's any place outside the continental United States where Americans are loved, it's West Berlin," Helge Schmodde remarked Saturday. He is associate economics editor of the newspaper Der Tagesspiegel in West Berlin, and is touring the United States at the tag end of a year's leave of absence.

Schmodde is an unusual tourist, however, with an unusual viewpoint. In 1950 he was the first German exchange student in San Francisco since before World War II. He stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kauser in San Francisco.

Since then the Kausers have moved to 145 Hickory Lane in Terra Linda, where Schmodde visited them during the weekend.

Asked about the Berlin Wall, Schmodde replied: "I personally am not affected by the wall, but 17 million of my neighbors are and you can't help feeling miserable about it. All West Berlin feels the same way."

However, he said, "it is no longer an issue and we don't constantly indulge in self-pity or regret or anything else."

As for the Americanization of Europe since the war. Schmodde made the observation that "the most Americanized youth in Europe are the Swedish, who haven't been occupied by American soldiers at all."

UC Dean Avoids Specifics In Addressing Rotary Club

Preferring to analyze the causes and trends of social unrest rather than rake over the coals of last year's University of California uprisings, Acting Dean of Students Arleigh Williams addressed the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday on "The Battle at Cal."

He told of the rule put in by the university administration last Sept. 14 prohibiting advocacy of political action, legal or illegal, or a yes or no vote on any issue or candidate, recalling ruefully, "We underestimated the response of the students." Particularly, he said, the response of the civil rights forces on campus was underestimated.

That, however, was the extent of the specific reference to the Cal controversy by the former dean of students at College of Marin. He enjoined his audience not to indulge in "the first great error, to over simplify the matter. There is a study being conducted at the University of 80 people who were involved in the protest, and so far not one single characteristic common to all has been discovered."

Noting that "before we could correct our rules we met civil disobedience," he said: "I don't believe a democratic society can exist indefinitely if disobedience replaces law. But a democratic society cannot exist, either, if it nurtures the causes of disobedience.

"The important question is why disobedience occurs. This generation is considerably better than my own." Then "at the risk of being pedantic," he read the first section of the Declaration of Independence, and portions of the First, 14th and 15th Amendments.

"These are the foundations of our very way of life. This generation believes that we mean them. If we do mean them we will go a long way toward establishing our Great Society."

Without waiting for or soliciting questions from the audience, club president Daniel C. Davis adjourned the meeting.

Police Station Work On Council's Agenda

The Novato City Council will consider an agreement with architect Gordon Phillips for remodeling the police station when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The council will also vote on an amendment to the animal control ordinance, consider the tentative map of San Jose Court at San Jose Boulevard and Sunset Boulevard, and hold a closed session to fill a vacancy on the parks and recreation commission.

Tour Of Town Park

Tour of the town park and other areas used for recreation will be made by the Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission at 7 p.m. tomorrow before its regular meeting at Town Hall at 8 p.m.

Date Scheduled For Sentencing

Grinner, 18, of 3 Kappas Yacht Harbor, Sausalito, and a companion, Ira Lewis Edwards, 18, of 135 Drake Avenue, Marin City, allegedly looted a safe after breaking into Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon on Feb. 5.

Mill Valley To Hold Pet Contests Friday

Pedigree will not be a prerequisite for animals entered in the pet fair sponsored by the Mill Valley recreation department Friday from 2 to 3 p.m. at Park, Alto and Old Mill School playgrounds.

Pets will be judged in categories such as "best trained dog," "best cared for cat" and "most unusual pet." Ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third place in the second annual pet fair. Admission is free.
